Today is an opportunity to “scratch the surface” of many of the resources that are available to you though the AT Library Media Center. Your goal is to learn where the items are located, how to access and use the resources to answer your question. Like all good research questions, you will not find the information in a single source. You will consult many sources to gather your data! Reread YOUR question and now Get READY, Get SET, GO!

My question is:

*Keywords: What words (keywords) should you begin to search?	Your keywords:
*Virtual Thesaurus: Search one word KEYWORD Virtual Thesaurus	Which word did you search and what new words did you add to your search?
*AT Catalogue: Access the AT Catalogue. Identify and locate a book on your topic.	Call # Which area is it located in within the Library? Title of the book _____ Locate book _____ Staff initials _____
Images: AP Images Know that e-Library and Gale Student Resource Center provides multimedia too!	Find a graphic or video clip that is useful.
*Magazine Databases: When researching a historical topic, current newspaper and magazine articles are not typically available. Both e-Library and Gale resources provide magazine and newspaper articles as part of your search too. Proquest	How do you know if AT has this magazine in the upstairs collection? Select the best paragraph and do a copy paste it here: What is the Bibliographic information for this article?
