Dress rehearsal

The Willowbrook High School Concert Choir will perform at the Illinois Music Education Conference this Saturday, Jan. 27, at the Scottish Rite Cathedral in Peoria. The choir, which includes 46 students, will premiere a piece created in memory and honor of former District 88 Board of Education member Mark Johnson. The students, under the direction of Willowbrook Choir Director Karyn Wolcott, are pictured during a dress rehearsal of their performance on Jan. 18. A portion of the performance was filmed and shown at the District 88 Board meeting on Monday, Jan. 22. Johnson grew up in Villa Park and graduated from Willowbrook in 1966. He spent more than 30 years with the Villa Park Police Department, retiring as deputy chief in 2009. Johnson, whose four daughters graduated from Willowbrook, spent more than a decade on the District 88 Board of Education. He passed away in December 2014. The Willowbrook students are part of an exclusive group of musicians who will perform at this week's conference. The school's concert choir submitted an application and was chosen to perform by a selection committee.

2 people killed in Addison house fire

According to a WGN-TV news report, Addison Fire Department officials have confirmed two people were found dead inside a home on Ellsworth Avenue near Armitage following a fire that broke out at the home early Monday morning.

Addison Fire Department officials told WGN-TV the fire started in the kitchen area, moved up into the attic and spread to the rest of the house, and the two individuals were found dead in the back bedroom.

Fire Department officials told WGN-TV there were no working smoke detectors inside the home at the time of the fire.

The WGN-TV report showed smoke coming from the single-story house. Fire Department officials told WGN-TV that a couple driving by in a semi-truck saw smoke from the house and called 9-1-1 at around 2:30 Monday morning, and firefighters responded within five minutes.

Addison Deputy Fire Chief Scott

Walker told WGN-TV at the scene of the fire that when firefighters were trying to get into the building, "a lot of fire had consumed the roof area." A lot of the structure had collapsed in, Walker said, and "we had to pull crews back and kind of regroup to find a better access into the building."

The Addison Fire Department is still trying to find out exactly what caused the fire as of Monday morning, according to the WGN-TV report.

By Chris Fox
LOMBARDIAN-VILLA PARK REVIEW STAFF
REPORTER

The Willowbrook boys basketball team earned two West Suburban Gold Conference road wins in two nights last week. The Warriors beat Downers Grove South 68-55 on Friday. One night later, they completed the first half of the conference season by hanging on for a 58-56 victory at Leyden.

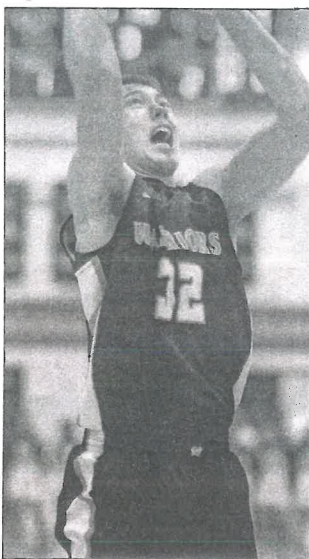

The Warriors moved to 16-3 overall and 4-2 in the conference with their win at Leyden. Willowbrook opens the second half of the conference season with this Friday's home game against Proviso East. The Pirates defeated the Warriors 74-72 in overtime in the teams' first meeting of the season, which took place on Dec. 1 in Maywood.

Willowbrook withstood an early surge from Downers Grove South in Friday's game. The Mustangs made six 3-point shots during the first half. The Warriors, who made three 3-pointers in the opening half, trailed Downers Grove South 18-11 after one quarter and 34-31 at halftime. The Mustangs opened the second half with a 3-point play to take a 37-31 lead. Willowbrook rallied during the remainder of the quarter to grab a 52-44 lead with eight minutes to play.

"They were on fire to start the game," said Willowbrook coach Chris Perkins of the Mustangs. "Then we got the momentum. It started defensively."

Senior Sikander Zafar and junior Matas Masys both hit 3-point shots to start the Warriors' third-quarter surge. Seniors Cornelius Paxton and Matt Myers then added baskets for the Warriors, who cut the Mustangs' lead to one point in the middle of the third quarter. Senior Ethan Schuemer gave Willowbrook a 43-42 lead when he scored an inside basket with over three minutes left in the quarter. Baskets by Myers and senior Marshawn Phillips helped the Warriors maintain their lead. Masys hit his second 3-point shot of the period to give the Warriors a 50-44 lead with about one minute left in the quarter. Phillips hit a jump shot as the period ended to give the Warriors their 52-44 lead.

"They came out striking first; we knew we were the better team," said Phillips after the win. "We didn't play like it in the first half. We came out in the second half and played hard."

The Willowbrook boys basketball team beat Downers Grove South 68-55 in Friday's West Suburban Gold Conference game in Downers Grove. One night later, the Warriors earned a 58-56 conference win at Leyden. Willowbrook improved to 16-3 overall and 4-2 in conference play with Saturday's victory over the Eagles. One photo from Friday's win at Downers Grove South shows senior Ethan Schuemer (No. 32-above left) scoring a third-quarter basket that gave the Warriors a 43-42 lead. Willowbrook maintained the lead for the rest of the game. Other photos from Friday show junior Matas Masys (No. 21-above middle) and senior Marshawn Phillips (No. 11-above right). Myers, who did not score in the first half but made all four of his attempts from the field in the second half, provided two field goals in the fourth quarter. Schuemer delivered a 3-point play with 4:11 remaining to boost the lead to 63-48.

Schuemer, who made 10 of 15 shots from the field and four of six attempts from the foul line, led all scorers with 24 points. He also collected a team-leading eight rebounds. Masys, who made three of five attempts from 3-point range, added 11 points. Phillips scored nine points, while Myers tallied eight points. Paxton and Zafar contributed six and five points, respectively.

"I think we just played harder, to be honest," said Myers of the Warriors' effort in the second half at Downers Grove South. "In the first half we kind of took them lightly. We realized we needed to pick it up. We really had to play hard."

Willowbrook held a 27-23 halftime lead over Leyden in Saturday's conference battle. The Warriors controlled the third quarter and took a 44-33 lead into the final period. The Eagles rallied in the fourth quarter and missed a last-second shot that could have tied the game.

Schuemer made all eight of his shots from the field. He converted four of six free throws to finish the night with 20 points. Phillips scored 10 points, while Masys provided nine points. Myers, Zafar and junior Scott Tumilty each scored five points.

One night after playing Proviso East this Friday, the Warriors will travel to West Aurora for Saturday's non-conference game.

Rams drop a pair of razor-thin decisions

Late rally at Downers Grove South falls short; Rams also lose a double OT battle at East Aurora Glenbard East's boys basketball team lost three straight games last week. The three setbacks sent the Rams' overall season record to 7-12.

Two of last week's losses went down to the wire. In its first game of last week, Glenbard East staged a fourth-quarter rally that fell short in a 55-52 non-conference loss at Downers Grove South. Three days later, the Rams lost 78-73 in double overtime in an Upstate Eight Valley Conference game at East Aurora. Glenbard East's conference record slipped to 2-3 with the loss.

The Rams completed the week with Saturday afternoon's home game against Downers Grove North. The game was one of five contests in Glenbard East's one-day "When Sides Collide" event. Downers Grove North pulled away from the Rams in the second half on the way to a 67-45 victory.

Glenbard East trailed Downers Grove South by 12 points in the fourth quarter of the Jan. 16 contest. The Rams trimmed the lead to three points and missed a 3-point shot at the buzzer that could have sent the game into overtime. Senior James Peterkin accounted for more than half of the Rams' scoring with 27 points. Senior Korvante Davis added 11 points.

The Rams had a seven-point lead in the third quarter of Friday's conference game at East Aurora. The two teams were tied at 59-59 at the end of regulation. They were deadlocked at 66-66 after the first four-minute overtime period.

"We didn't close it out as well as we'd like," said Glenbard East coach Scott Miller of Friday's contest. "We had two good looks that didn't go at the end of regulation, and we had the ball at the end of the first overtime. They kind of took it to us in the second overtime."

Senior Kenny Adams made 16 of 19 free-throw attempts and scored a team-leading 26 points for the Rams in Friday's game. Sophomore Alijah Nelson scored 17 points, while Peterkin contributed 11 points. Sophomore DaRon Hall added 10 points.

The Rams trailed Downers Grove North 34-27 at halftime of Saturday's game. The visiting Trojans connected on four 3-point shots in the third quarter and took a 54-39 lead by the end of the period. Downers Grove North then scored the first nine points of the fourth quarter to extend its lead to 63-39.

Peterkin and Nelson scored 11 and 10 points, respectively, in Saturday's game. Davis added eight points.

Breen co-sponsors self-defense/awareness class

More than 50 women, along with some of their teenage daughters, turned out Jan. 11 for a self-defense and self-awareness class that was co-sponsored by state Rep. Peter Breen (R-Lombard right) and One Light Self-Defense. Held at Park View Elementary School in Glen Ellyn, participants learned valuable techniques about where to hit an attacker, how to release a hold and methods to improve awareness and avoid potential attacks. "Despite some bad weather moving into the area, our turnout surpassed what we were expecting, which tells me that this type of class is being very well-received by the people in the community," said Breen, who is pictured at right with his son, Matthew. "I believe everyone left with a better understanding of how to protect themselves during potentially dangerous situations. I have already received requests to bring this event back to the area." While the class was free, donations were taken at the door to benefit Family Shelter Service of Wheaton, a local organization supporting women and children fleeing domestic violence situations. "We raised about $400 for Family Shelter Service, and that money will be put to good use right here in the 48th District," said Breen.

Chicago one of 20 finalists for Amazon's second headquarters

ILLINOIS NEWS NETWORK

Chicago has been named one of 20 finalist cities to host Amazon's second headquarters, the company announced last week.

Chicago was among more than 200 North American cities that sent in proposals last year to host the online retail giant's second headquarters.

"We are delighted to be among the competitors in the next stage of Amazon's HQ2 search," Gov. Bruce Rauner said in a statement. "We are ready to show the company why we believe the Chicago area is their best option."

At a news conference later last Thursday morning, Rauner cautioned that Illinois still has work to do.

"I think we'll have a better case to make to Amazon if we show that we are disciplined about our taxes and work to keep our taxes down," the governor said. "If we make progress in this, it will send a great message to Amazon that Illinois is not just about raising taxes with a corrupt system."

Illinois has among the highest property taxes in the country and one report says it has the highest combined local and state tax burden in the U.S.

Rep. Jim Durkin, the House Minority Leader, said if Amazon chooses Chicago, it would help boost the state's economy.

"This is a great first step towards bringing Amazon to Illinois in a move that will create thousands of jobs and boost our economy," Durkin, R-Western Springs, said. "We look forward to continuing this process to showcase the best features Illinois has to offer for businesses."

Earlier last Thursday, Amazon tweeted out the news.

"Today we are announcing the communities that will proceed to the next step in the HQ2 process," Amazon said. "Getting from 238 to 20 was very tough—all the proposals showed tremendous enthusiasm and creativity."

Some surprises that were on the finalist list included Indianapolis and Columbus, Ohio. Others that were seen as front-runners were left off, including Detroit, San Diego, San Francisco and Phoenix.

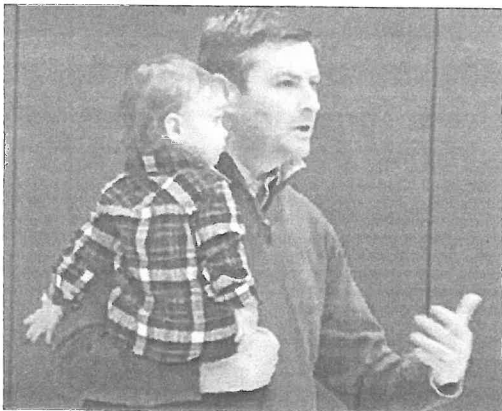

St. Louis, which received the support of some of its Illinois suburbs, was not selected.

The other 19 finalists, according to Amazon, are: Atlanta; Austin, Texas; Boston; Columbus, Ohio; Dallas; Denver; Indianapolis; Los Angeles; Miami; Montgomery County, Md.; Nashville, Tenn.; Northern Virginia; Newark, N.J.; New York City; Pittsburgh; Philadelphia; Raleigh, N.C.; Toronto; and Washington, D.C.

Cities across the country offered billions of dollars in tax incentives in an effort to woo the company. Chicago reportedly offered the company more than $2 billion in incentives.

Many have criticized giving incentives to one of the world's most valuable companies, calling it corporate welfare.

Amazon is based in Seattle. It said it would choose the location for its second headquarters some time in 2018.

Residents continue their push to keep Lufkin Pool open

Group calls for village board to spend up to $450,000 to repair the pool

By Chris Fox
REPORTER

Several members of the recently formed Save Lufkin Pool group spoke during the Jan. 22 Villa Park Village Board meeting and urged the board to keep the pool open.

The fate of Lufkin Pool wasn't on the agenda for the meeting, but members of the group spoke during the public participation segment. The majority of the 14 speakers identified themselves as members of the Save Lufkin Pool group.

Board members did not directly respond to the members' comments. Villa Park Village President Albert Bulthuis did not attend the meeting. Trustee Nick Cuzzone, who served as president pro tempore, thanked all of the speakers near the end of the meeting.

"We'll be discussing this down the road," said Cuzzone.

Trustee Robert Wagner applauded the residents who spoke at the meeting, and at the previous board meeting on Jan. 8, Wagner said he was impressed with the way the group members presented their thoughts.

On Dec. 29, 2017, Bulthuis sent a letter to residents stating that Lufkin Pool will not be open in 2018. The pool, which is located at 1000 S. Ardmore Ave., is about 60 years old and in need of several major repairs.

In his letter, Bulthuis stated the village is planning to demolish all structures at Lufkin Pool and return the area to open green space.

At the board meeting on Nov. 6, 2017, board members voted down two resolutions regarding repairs at the pool. One resolution called for the approval of a $25,000 agreement with Williams Architects of Itasca for aquatic engineering services for filtration renovation. The second resolution called for the authorization of the purchase of a new liner for the pool. The cost of the new liner was estimated at about $88,500. Without a new liner, the pool cannot open.

The pool's liner, which was installed in 1997, became detached and had to be removed at the end of the 2017 season.

At the Nov. 6 meeting, Villa Park Village Manager Rich Keehner said an assessment by Williams Architects noted the major improvements at Lufkin Pool, including the replacement liner, had an estimated cost of approximately $440,000.

Katie Mueller, a member of the Save Lufkin Pool group, was the first speaker during the Jan. 22 meeting's segment for public comments on non-agenda items. Mueller said the group had reviewed the village budget and would provide some recommendations to the board.

Mueller also stated that the village's other public pool—Jefferson Pool—can be challenging for families with small children. She noted that Jefferson's toddler pool and main pool are separated, making it difficult for some parents to keep track of all of their children.

Mueller added that Jefferson Pool, located at 341 N. Harvard Ave., is not centrally located, and is often closed for swim lessons and Villa Park Mariners' swim meets. Mueller also mentioned the village's desire to build a community pool and/or recreation center. At the Nov. 6 board meeting, Bulthuis said construction of such a facility would not take place for at least 10 years.

Mueller also noted Lufkin Pool has more visitors than Jefferson Pool. According to information provided by the village's parks and recreation department, Lufkin averaged about 15,800 visitors per year from 2007-17. Jefferson's annual attendance was about 12,700 during that same period. Both pools report-

Warriors dominate Proviso East to grab a share of first place in the conference

Willowbrook races to a 21-point halftime lead

By Chris Fox
LOMBARDIAN-VILLA PARK REVIEW
STAFF REPORTER

The Willowbrook boys basketball team wasted no time in taking control of Friday's critical West Suburban Gold Conference home game against Proviso East. The Warriors, who lost in heartbreaking fashion to the Pirates earlier in the season, dominated the rematch in Villa Park.

A tenacious defensive effort lifted the Warriors to a 24-12 lead after one quarter of Friday's battle, which opened up the second half of the conference season. Willowbrook extended its lead to 45-24 by halftime and coasted to an 85-65 victory in front of an enthusiastic crowd and a crew from Comcast, which televised the contest as its game of the week.

"That was a great half," said Willowbrook coach Chris Perkins of the opening half against Proviso East. "The intensity was there. We forced a lot of turnovers. That was our game plan coming in, just to stay aggressive and pick them up full-court. The guys did a good job of playing well together and moving the ball. We knew we needed this game, and we were at home. It was a great environment."

Friday's result left both Willowbrook and Proviso East in first place in the conference standings with identical 5-2 records. The Warriors improved their overall record to 18-3 with the win. They fell to 18-4 one night later after losing 78-66 to West Aurora in Saturday's non-conference game in Batavia.

The Warriors' conference season continues with this week's road games at Addison Trail and Hinsdale South.

Willowbrook's defense forced Proviso East into committing 15 turnovers in the first half of Friday's game.

"It was definitely the defense," said senior Neil Paxton in noting the key to the victory. "Coach [Perkins] said that we were going to win this game with defense. We were ready for this game. We couldn't wait to play them."

"We came out ready for anything; we just had to keep our foot on the pedal," said senior Ethan Schuemer. "We just continued to play that way throughout the whole game. We know how good our defense can be. We were able to execute really well tonight. It was a big victory."

Proviso East scored the first four points of the second half to cut the Warriors' lead to 45-28. Willowbrook called a timeout and responded with three straight baskets—a score by junior Matas Masys with an assist from Paxton, a two-handed dunk by Schuemer and a driving layup by senior Sikander Zafar.

Schuemer added five more points in the third quarter, including a 3-point play that raised the lead to 66-41. The Warriors held a 68-41 advantage at the end of the period.

Both teams pulled their starters with about four minutes left in the game and Willowbrook leading 79-51. The Warriors pushed their lead to 85-53 with about two minutes to play. The Pirates then went on a 12-0 run to finish the game.

Schuemer, who made nine of 12 field-goal attempts and four of five free throws, scored a team-leading 22 points. He also grabbed 10 rebounds. Paxton scored 14 points, while sophomore Everett Stubblefield added 12 points. Senior Marshawn Phillips and Masys tallied nine and eight points, respectively.

Friday's win avenged the Warriors' Dec. 1 overtime loss to the Pirates in Maywood. Proviso East made a game-winning shot as the overtime period ended to pull out a 74-72 victory.

The Warriors began last week with a 70-67 non-conference victory over Elgin-Larkin on Jan. 23 in Villa Park. Masys hit the winning shot, connecting on a 3-point attempt to break a 67-67 tie with 2.6 seconds to play.

Schuemer poured in a team-leading 23 points and collected 10 rebounds. He made 10 of 16 shots from the field and hit all three of his free-throw attempts. Masys, who drained a pair of 3-point shots, added 14 points. Paxton provided 10 points for the Warriors, who trailed Elgin-Larkin 33-25 at halftime but rallied to take a 50-46 lead by the end of the third quarter.

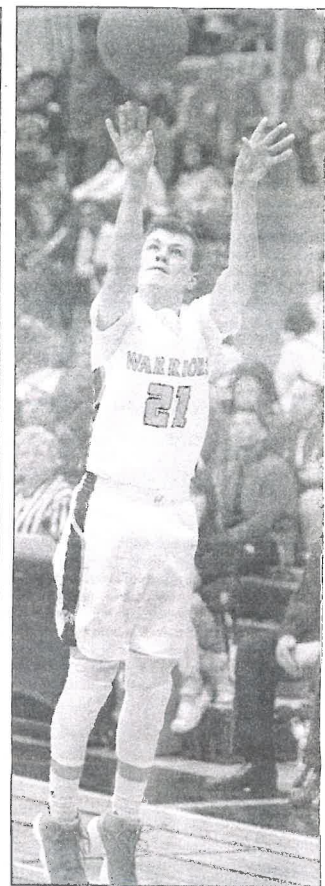

Willowbrook trailed West Aurora 38-33 at halftime of Saturday's contest. The Blackhawks, who held the Warriors to only six points in the third quarter, enjoyed a 55-39 lead by the end of the period.

Stubblefield scored a team-high 18 points against West Aurora. Schuemer and Masys both scored 15 points.

Red Cross winter blood shortage reaches critical level

More than 550 blood drives have been forced to cancel due to winter weather in January, leaving over 16,500 blood and platelet donations to go uncollected through last week. In addition, bitter cold and widespread flu have contributed to very low turnout at many blood drives.

"Blood and platelet donations are currently being distributed to hospitals faster than they are coming in," said Laura McGuire, external communications manager of the local Red Cross Blood Services Region. "Donors are critically needed to restock the shelves for patients in their community as well as areas where donors are unable to give due to inclement weather."

Every day, no matter the weather, the Red Cross must collect more than 13,000 blood and platelet donations to meet the needs of patients like Finnegan "Finn" Olson. Last January, Finn was born with a rare heart condition. He required multiple transfusions before, during and after heart transplant surgery last summer. Transfusions had an almost immediate effect on his personality and skin's appearance.

"Each time Finn received a transfusion, you could see him pink up right away and have significantly more energy," said his mother, Ali Olson. "We credit blood donation with making Finn stronger and helping keep him alive long enough to receive a new heart. Finn is living proof that blood helps save lives."

Make an appointment to give blood or platelets by downloading the free Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting redcrossblood.org or calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

District 88 reaches agreement with teachers union

On Jan. 22, the District 88 Board of Education voted to approve a two-year Collective Bargaining Agreement between the Board of Education and the American Federation of Teachers, Local 571.

The contract will go into effect on July 1, 2018, and will run through June 30, 2020. The agreement is a collaboration between the district's teachers' association, Board of Education and administration. District 88 Board of Education President Donna Craft Cain said the contract is fair to teachers, while also being responsible with taxpayer resources, and it allows the district to attract, hire and retain a high-quality teaching staff.

In year one (2018-19), the contract will provide a base salary increase of 2 percent, which is 95 percent of the Consumer Price Index (CPI) reported for the calendar year ending on Dec. 31, 2016.

In year two (2019-20), the contract will provide a base salary increase of 1.8 percent, which is 85 percent of the Consumer Price Index (CPI) reported for the calendar year ending on Dec. 31, 2017. The agreement also allows for provisions in the event of a property tax freeze to ensure the district can maintain its stable budget.

In both years, step and lane advancement on the schedule will continue, as is the district's normal practice.

EDC plans Red/White/Blue Day in honor of Winter Olympics

The Educational Development Council (EDC)—a group of almost two dozen staff members, teachers, administrators, and paraprofessional, representing each school and grade level in School District 4—has worked this year on providing fun competitive events each month to help build school spirit. The school that wins the monthly challenge is awarded with a traveling trophy and the pride that comes from winning.

In February, the EDC is planning a Red/White/Blue day on Friday, Feb. 9, which is the opening day of the Winter Olympics. All students and staff are going to be encouraged to wear red, white, and blue in honor of ASD4 alum Alexa Scimeca Knierim and her husband, Chris Knierim, who will be representing the USA in the ice skating pairs competition.

It's especially meaningful because Alexa's mother, Tina Scimeca, is a 3rd grade teacher at Army Trail School.

Scorza leading the way for Addison Trail girls basketball team

Blazers competitive in recent barrage of games

By Mike Miazga
CORRESPONDENT

One key bright spot throughout the season for the Addison Trail girls basketball team has been the play of senior guard Nicci Scorza.

Through late last week, Blazers coach Rob Schader noted Scorza is averaging around 12-13 points a game and eight to nine rebounds per contest.

"She is doing really well," he said. "She's a leader on the court who has been playing great defense, rebounding and scoring for us. She's been doing it all. She does a ton for us."

In recent West Suburban Conference Gold Division action, the Blazers lost to Morton and Leyden.

"Against Morton we played tough until the middle of the third and then we kind of fell apart," said Schader. "With Leyden, we lost by three, but were down by two late and had a chance to tie and hit one of two free throws and then had to foul."

In addition to Scorza, Schader cited strong recent play from Serena Gilliam (5-10, junior post), Joanna Garay (5-3 junior guard), Brenda Berumen (5-6 junior guard), Angelina Carreras (5-1 junior guard), Karime Martinez (5-9 junior guard) and Vincenza Zaccaro (5-7 senior guard).

"Serena has been doing well for us," he said. "She's averaging seven or eight points and gets us a bunch of rebounds. Karime Martinez is a junior wing who is getting a lot more confident out there. We're playing a lot of juniors."

Over the holidays the Blazers went 2-2 at the Lisle tournament. Addison Trail then lost to West Chicago and Proviso East and defeated Streamwood, while losing to Hoffman Estates after that.

"Streamwood was probably our best game we've played," said Schader.

After Hoffman Estates, the Blazers lost to Hinsdale South in conference play. "We were right there with Hinsdale South," said Schader. "We were down by one with four minutes left and then we fell apart and lost by 10 or 12. In that Leyden game we were up 12-2 to start the game and played a great half. We missed some easy shots and missed 16 free throws. We're turning the ball over too much right now. We lost to Leyden by three and missed 16 free throws."

The Blazers faced Leyden again earlier this week and will host Downers Grove South Friday for senior night at Addison Trail.

"We're 7-13 right now and there probably are four games that we could have had," said Schader. "You add that up and we could be 11-9. The girls are all playing hard and competing hard."

Warriors defeat Glenbard South; JV2 team second at York

By Mike Miazga
CORRESPONDENT

It's been a busy two weeks for the Willowbrook girls gymnastics team.

The Warriors recently had four meets inside that two-week stretch. After that run the Warriors were 4-5 overall in duals and 3-3 in West Suburban Conference Gold Division action. The JV team was 5-3 overall and 4-1 in WSC Gold meets.

In a recent dual meet against Glenbard South, Willowbrook was a 115.6-110.25 winner. The JV1 team won 97.2 to 81.5, while the JV2 team lost to Glenbard South.

In the annual District 88 meeting with Addison Trail, the Warriors lost 122.25 to 118.75 at the varsity level, won 100.1 to 99.4 at the JV1 level and lost at the JV2 level.

In a conference meet against Downers Grove South, Willowbrook lost 133.0 to 124.15 at the varsity level and 110.3 to 103.6 at the JV1 level. The JV2 team won 58.3 to 58.1.

At the JV2 invite at York, Willowbrook was second as a team. Dominique Crowe won the vault, while Damaries Garcia was second. Crowe took second on bars, while Karen Cruz was third and Heidi Helsper was fifth.

On floor, Katie Morris was third and Emily Gusel was fifth. Helsper was second in the all-around.

"The team is hitting its stride at the right time," said Willowbrook coach Deanna Zuchowski. "Since winter break, the girls have started to make more of their routines and add in elements of difficulty to improve their scores. Overall, the girls are ready for conference and the state series."

Zuchowski has seen upward movement in the confidence department. "Their confidence during competition has pulled them through some tough meets," she said. "They have kept their head up and pushed forward."

The coach noted beam has been an event where success has been quite rewarding. "Beam has given the team the most trouble, but it also has been its greatest comeback," Zuchowski said. "They are starting at more difficulty than the beginning of the season, which is right where I want them to be at this time. They still can improve on beam with fixing the balance checks and connecting their tricks."

Karli Wilson and Damaries Garcia have provided sparks of late for the Warriors. "Karli is really taking on the role of team leader," said Zuchowski. "Damaries has been assisting the team with camaraderie. Being a senior, she is trying to instill the idea of hard work and dedication to the sport."

Willowbrook recently competed in the WSC Gold meet at Leyden and performed in the Glenbard East regional this past Monday.

"I am very impressed with how far we have come this season," said Zuchowski. "The girls have had a lot of obstacles to overcome this year with injuries, the flu and other circumstances out of all of our control. They have pushed each other and are ready to accomplish their best scores."

Warrior bowling team continues to roll

Warriors receiving contributions from many

The Willowbrook girls bowling team recently split a pair of West Suburban Conference matches.

The Warriors lost to Downers Grove North, but came back to defeat Hinsdale South. The split put the Warriors at 8-1 overall and 6-1 in WSC play.

In the Downers North match, sophomore Makaylah Jones had a high series of 573. "We battled through the match but ended up a little short against Downers North," said Willowbrook coach Kevin Allen.

Senior Dana Sassenick had a high series of 585 with a 226 high game in the win against Hinsdale South. "We had a very good match and bowled very well as a team," said Allen.

Willowbrook also competed in three recent invitationals. The Warriors won the Hinsdale South invite, which featured eight teams. Jones had a high series of 1,152 and a high game of 242. Junior Holly Helsper had an 1,132 series with a high game of 218. "Holly was another standout for us," said Allen.

Willowbrook was fourth out of 24 teams at the Fenton invitational. Helsper took sixth in the tournament with a 1,209 series, which included a high game of 245. Katie Pettinger had an 1,138 series with a 211 series. She finished 15th individually.

Willowbrook also won the 11-team Leyden 6X6 invitational at the varsity level. Pettinger won the individual title with a high game of 239 and a six-game series of 1,231. Senior Elizabeth Soriano had an 1,177 series and a high game of 227, which earned her a third-place finish. "Elizabeth had a standout performance," said Allen.

The Warriors also won the JV title at Leyden. Junior Paula Williams had a 1,066 series with a 209 high game. Junior Sabrina Edwards had a 994 series and a high game of 197.

At Leyden, Willowbrook took the program-champion award, which adds together the varsity and JV scores.

Also at Leyden, Jones had a 278 high game, which earned her high-game honors in the tournament.

Through early last week, Helsper was leading the team with a 187 av-rebounds. Meurer added five points. "Alex only had five points but that included that big-time bucket. Alex locked down R-B's top player and leading scorer and held him to eight points on 3 field goals. He did a nice job containing him."

Cheng finished with 16 points and five rebounds. "We also had real good energy off the bench from Pat Shannon who came in and did a nice job defensively and hit a big backdoor bucket on an out-of-bounds play that got the crowd energized," Tyrrell said.

Tyrrell noted the bigger focus now is on finishing strong the rest of the way. The Knights were 14-7 overall and 4-4 in MSC Blue play after the R-B loss.

"We're still optimistic about the season," he said. "There still is the opportunity to beat every team in the conference and finish strong. Our focus is on preparing this team for a long playoff run. The season is going so fast. I will be sad to see it come to a close. Like I've said before, I enjoy everybody on this team and appreciate the opportunity to coach high-school basketball. It's a great group of kids, especially the seniors who have been a great part of the program."

erage. Pettinger and Sassenick were at 175, while Jones was at 170.

Allen noted the Leyden tournament was the team's best effort thus far. The Warriors averaged a 187 for the tournament.

Allen added improvement is being seen on spare shooting, especially at the 10 and 7 pins. "We have worked hard on those spares throughout practice," he noted.

Working with lane conditions continues to be another point of emphasis. "We still need to work on making adjustments to the lane condition," said Allen.

"When the lanes are different than we are used to, we need to be able to make adjustments faster so we are not wasting the first game by trying to get lined up."

Allen cited recent outstanding efforts from the likes of Pettinger, Soriano and Jones. "They really have stepped up on this team recently," he said. "They have scored extremely well, which has helped lead our team to important conference, and invite places and wins. We are expecting those three girls to continue working hard in practice and being successful in matches and invites."

Willowbrook recently competed against Fenton and Downers Grove South. "We have had a great season so far, but we have important matches and invites ahead of us," said Allen. "The next few weeks will be important for us to make sure we are prepared for the regional."

Random acts of basketball

The occasional randomness can be good for the basketball soul.

With that in mind, this week's edition of Eyes on Five looks at a little bit of everything.

Of course, this being February, part of that everything involves the upcoming playoffs.

Exodus:

Boys basketball in the East Suburban Catholic Conference just keeps chugging along.

Considering the amount of talent that transferred out in the off-season, it's been an impressive run for the competitive league. While Benet (17-4, 4-1) is in the thick of the ESCC race, a game behind St. Viator, it hasn't been easy.

The Redwings, also in play for the top seed in the Class 4A Glenbard East sectional, fell at St. Viator (17-5, 5-0) but scored a huge win at Marist (19-3, 4-1). They'll try to hold serve against Marian Central Catholic, Carmel (15-7, 3-2) and Joliet Catholic before a critical trip to Marian Catholic (14-4, 2-3) to wrap up conference play.

As good as the ESCC is this season, it'd be even better if not for those transfers. The losses definitely have been the Chicago Public League's gain.

Simeon's Xavier Pinson, a St. Patrick transfer, holds offers from Georgetown, Kent State, Missouri and Wisconsin. Curie's Maurice Commander, a Marist transfer, is committed to UT-Chattanooga. Chase Adams, a Marian Catholic transfer, is thriving at Orr.

A lot of common threads there, including state-title potential for their new teams. Simeon and Curie are ranked first and second in the Associated Press Class 4A poll while Orr is top-ranked in 2A.

You'll probably see a handful of ESCC teams making solid playoff runs next month, but expect a couple of those transfers to be playing in Peoria.

The youngsters:

February is an ideal time to check in on the underclassmen contributing to DuPage County's boys basketball teams.

Before we begin, know that we won't be mentioning every freshman or sophomore on every team.

Among the biggest impact sophomores are Benet's Colin Crothers, already a two-year varsity member, and Naperville Central's Cameron Dougherty, who scored 21 points including a game-winning 3-pointer last week against Neuqua Valley. Glenbard East's Alijah Nelson, another two-year starter, averages 13 points.

They're far from the only sophomores playing like seasoned veterans.

Fenton's Diamon King, Naperville Central's

Kevin Schmit Orrin Schwarz

Conference is loaded with sophomores, with four contributing in District 86: Hinsdale Central's Mac Quast and Ryan Isaacson, and Hinsdale South's Aaron Tims and Billy Durkin. There's Drew Cassens at Downers Grove North and Nate Shockey at York ... not to mention Dukes freshman Jeff Grace.

One more sophomore to keep an eye on is Willowbrook's Everett Stubblefield III. Brought up to varsity in time for last week's win over Larkin, he's scored 43 points in three games.

Playoff tipoff:

Timothy Christian can't wait to get the Class 2A girls postseason started next week.

The Trojans will host a regional and are peaking at just the right time, having given Walther Christian a run for its money Tuesday before suffering its first defeat of 2018.

"Considering that we are playing the best we played all season and my girls are finally believing in ourselves, I'm pretty excited," Trojans coach Michele Strube said.

The Trojans earned the No. 1 subsectional seed. They have size, with four 6-footers who see regular playing time. They have strong guard play. They have good depth. But most importantly, Strube said, they have confidence now.

Defeating a 20-win Riverside-Brookfield team in overtime last week and hanging with Walther Christian, which just missed being ranked this week in Class 1A, will do that.

"We're playing like we should be playing," Strube said.

They're playing like they could win their first regional since Strube started coaching five seasons ago. They already are guaranteed to have their best record for the coach, 16-9 going into Thursday night's game against Fenton.

The Trojans will open with a Chicago school, the winner of Collins and Our Lady of Tepeyac, on Wednesday night, a game they should win. That would set up a regional final against the winner of Lisle and Westmont.

Timothy Christian already owns wins this season over both the Lions and Sentinels, but they'd like to see Lisle for a repeat of last year's regional final won by the Lions.

"We're looking for some revenge this year," Strube said.

As for the fourth-seeded beat the Sentinels by 12 in November. "... We can't look ahead. Westmont's going to give us a battle."

Seedings:

The Class 3A and Class 4A girls play-offs are starting to take shape also. The sectional seeds were released Thursday night, with pairings due Friday afternoon.

In Class 3A Glenbard South earned a No. 1 seed in one subsectional of the Genoa-Kingston sectional, where the regional hosts are No. 2 Sycamore and No. 6 St. Francis. Expect the Raiders — who are very happy to be sent west this season for sectional play instead of east with Chicago schools — to go to Wheaton.

In Class 4A the Proviso West sectional is loaded with Montini at No. 1 with Benet at No. 2. One of them probably will be sent to Reavis for a regional, the other to Hinsdale South.

The winner at Proviso West will meet the winner of the Neuqua Valley sectional for the right to go downstate. Bolingbrook earned the top seed at Neuqua Valley, with Naperville Central at No. 2.

There's a chance the Redhaws, regional hosts, could find themselves playing No. 7 Naperville North in a regional final. The two cross-town rivals played Thursday night in DuPage Valley Conference action.

Bolingbrook visits Montini for a nonconference game Saturday afternoon in a potential superspecial preview.

As expected, Geneva is the No. 1 seed at the Lake Park sectional. Regional host Wheaton Warrenville South earned the second seed, beating out No. 3 Glenbard West, with Wheaton North at No. 4.

Lake Park earned the fifth seed. The Lancers are led by senior guard Carson Vance, who last week hit the 1,000-point milestone.

York is the seventh seed at Lake Park and might prefer to be sent to WW South than see West Suburban Silver rival Glenbard West a fourth time this season.

Addison Trail, Schaumburg and DeKalb are the other regional hosts in the Lake Park sectional complex.

The stat:

It's easy to get caught up in a buzzer-beating finish, but let's not forget an important element of Naperville Central's 52-49 victory over Neuqua Valley. The Redhaws won last Friday's DuPage Valley Conference game on Cameron Dougherty's last-second 3-pointer, and in the process helped one of their own reach a milestone.

Congratulations to Naperville Central coach Pete Kramer, who claimed his 250th victory that night.

With Naperville North's Chris Johnson (32) suffering the effects of a concussion, teammate Tom Welch (1) has stepped up his game.

by Tai Bibbs, now a freshman guard at Columbia University in New York.

Gimre, who also sank 67 3s as a junior, already owns West Chicago's all-time record with 150 of them. That's 26 more than Bibbs hit over his three varsity seasons.

As far as West Chicago brother combinations go, the mark of Tai and Mikey Bibbs is secure. Mikey made 123 3-pointers to give that brother duo a total of 247. Jason Gimre's brother, Josh, made 34.

It should be just a short time before Jason Gimre eclipses Tai Bibbs' season record. Twice this season he has made nine 3-pointers in a game, once in a loss at Streamwood and again in a win over Ridgewood at DeKalb.

On the other hand Gimre may need to light it quickly should the West Chicago High School Teachers' Association decide to strike. They voted on Jan. 26 — the same day Gimre notched five 3s in a 63-60 win over East Aurora — to authorize a strike.

Evan flow:

To the surprise of no one, this week Glenbard West junior Evan Taylor picked up another Division I scholarship offer. It's his sixth, with more sure to come.

The 6-foot-5 wing has been playing a lot of point guard for the Hilltoppers (11-8, 3-5 West Suburban Silver). In fact, he's been playing a lot of everywhere. Taylor's versatility has enhanced his attractiveness to colleges.

"He's getting used to doing some things he doesn't normally do, but it's good for his game," said Glenbard West coach Tim Hoder. "We're asking him to do a lot out there."

Taylor's latest offer came from Loyola, adding to a list to improve into the summer, more offers will follow.

Taylor's averaging 17.6 points with a smooth outside shot, a wicked pull-up jumper and an ability to get to the basket. He's also averaging 7.2 rebounds and 3.3 assists as the Hilltoppers continue to compete in the rugged Silver.

A young junior, Taylor might still be growing. His added size and strength already has Hoder looking forward to Taylor's improvements over the next year.

"I think this summer he'll be getting a lot of attention," Hoder said. "He's 16 and he's already one of the best players in the league. And he's barely started driving."

Skeete's shooting:

Waubonsie Valley has won three of its last four games, and one reason is 6-foot-4 forward Marcus Skeete has provided consistent scoring alongside junior guard Eric Cannon.

Skeete, one of the area's top sophomores, believes he's rounding into form after a bout with mononucleosis before the season. He missed the Warriors' first four games over Thanksgiving at Palatine, as well as Waubonsie's Dec. 1 game against Lake Park.

"I'm starting to get back to my normal self, I think. And coach (Jason Mead) has given me a bigger role on offense," Skeete said after scoring 23 points with 8 rebounds in Waubonsie's 65-49 win over Neuqua Valley on Tuesday. He did most of his damage in the lane and showed nice touch on midrange jump shots.

In two of his last three games, Skeete has set new personal highs in scoring. In Waubonsie Valley's 53-34 win at Lake Park on Jan. 23 the sophomore scored 20 points with 8 more rebounds, 6 of them on the offensive glass.

Dukes can't close out Glenbard West

By MATT LE CREN

editorial@mysuburbanlife.com

ELMHURST – Glenbard West's Katelyn Heller looked out of gas in the final minutes of a key West Suburban Silver game against York on Jan. 26.

The junior guard was gasping for air at one point while trying to guard York star Danielle Dennis.

But she only had a fleeting thought of asking for a break.

"At first, but then I just zoned out," Heller said. "We had a couple minutes left, it was a big game for us, and it was super close."

Heller and her teammates somehow found enough energy to rally from an eight-point deficit to knock off the Dukes 49-42.

The Hilltoppers (23-3, 10-1) won their 18th straight game the next night, beating Downers Grove North 41-35, then clinched their first Silver championship since 2006 by beating Hinsdale Central 69-44 on Jan. 30 for their 19th straight win. Cameron Kruse's 20 points led the way against Hinsdale.

"They're [23-3] because they do a great job of finishing out games," York coach Brandon Collings said. "They've got a lot of close ones that they've finished off and they've won all of those."

Indeed, 11 of Glenbard West's victories during the winning streak have come by seven points or fewer. The Hilltoppers trailed 29-21 in the third quarter against York, but Heller scored all five of her points in the fourth quarter while holding Dennis, who led York with 14 points, scoreless.

Heller scored on a layup at the 6:31 mark of the fourth quarter to give the Hilltoppers their first lead (36-34) since early in the second quarter.

The Dukes responded by scoring five straight, including a three-point play by Kathleen Levins with 5:34 remaining. But the Hilltoppers held them scoreless for the next 5:24, going on an 11-0 run to take control.

Sophomore Taylor Huff, who had a game-high 17 points and nine rebounds, scored on a putback with 3:12 left to give Glenbard West a 40-39 lead. Jamiyah Thomas followed with a putback of her own and Heller then converted a power drive straight up the middle to make it 44-39 with 1:07 to go.

"I was looking to drive the whole game, but they had good defense and I didn't see it," Heller said. "I was just trying to move the ball, but we were working on spacing out to make the middle open for that. I think we did a good job with that because it was open [on that play]."

Heller later added a free throw and senior Sammy Harris, who had five rebounds, three assists and two steals, scored all four of her points at the foul line in the final 17 seconds to secure the win.

"York is a really tough team," Glenbard West coach Kristi Faulkner said. "They play hard and we have a lot of respect for them."

"I thought our team stuck together the whole game and stayed positive."

That's been a season-long theme for the Hilltoppers, who have fashioned their best season since Faulkner's senior year, when they finished third at the 1999 state finals.

Caylin Rufus had 10 points for York, which missed nine straight shots in the fourth quarter.

"For 29 of 32 minutes we had them," Collings said. "We missed four or five layups and that whole second half they beat us to the offensive boards. It killed us."

Montini

Sam Mitchell scored 14 points and Illyse Pitts added 10 for the Lady Broncos in a 44-43 win over Iowa City West on Jan. 27.

Timothy Christian

Jordyn Strube scored 11 points and Alex Sureya added nine for the Trojans in a 56-37 loss to Walther Christian on Jan. 30, snapping Timothy's seven-game winning streak. Emily DeBoer had 13 points and 11 rebounds and Olivia Schuringa added 11 points in Timothy's 50-41 overtime win over Riverside-Brookfield on Jan. 27. Hannah Schuringa scored 19 points in the Trojans' 65-22 win over Guerin on Jan. 25.

Willowbrook

The Warriors beat Morton 57-51 on Jan. 30. Willowbrook lost to Proviso West 68-28 on Jan. 26.

Ethan Schuemer had 22 points and nine rebounds, and Willowbrook blew out Proviso East 85-65 on Jan. 26 in the West Suburban Gold.

Neil Paxton Jr. added 14 points and sophomore Everett Stubblefield III had 12 points for Willowbrook.

Schuemer scored 15 points and had four rebounds in Willowbrook's 78-66 loss to West Aurora on Jan. 27 at the Batavia Night of Hoops. Matas Masys added 15 points for Willowbrook (18-4, 5-2), which had an eight-game winning streak snapped. Willowbrook plays at Hinsdale South on Feb. 2 in a matchup of West Suburban Gold leaders.

York

Nick Kosich scored 18 points, including nine during a key fourth-quarter run, and the Dukes beat Glenbard West 64-57 on Jan. 26 in Glen Ellyn. Angelo Martucci added 17 points for York (14-8, 4-3).

IC Catholic Prep

Kevin Cheng scored 16 points and Khali Saunders added 10 points and 10 rebounds for the Knights, who lost to Riverside-Brookfield 47-44 on Jan. 26 in Elmhurst on Zach Vaia's half-court buzzer-beater.

Cheng scored 26 points for ICCP (14-8) in a 65-58 loss Jan. 27 to unbeaten Aurora Christian, which is ranked No. 1 in Class 1A.

GYMNASTICS

York

The Dukes scored 133.4000 points and took third at the Oak Park-River Forest Regional Jan. 30. York sophomore Megan Cronin took seventh in the all-around (34.0250), seventh on bars (8.7250) and ninth on floor (8.8500). Lailah Waddell (33.2000) and Zikora Nnam (32.7000) were ninth and 10th, respectively, in the all-around.

At the West Suburban Silver meet Jan. 27, Jess Dryden (9.125) and Cronin (9.1) were sixth and seventh on vault, Cronin tied for ninth on floor (9.025) and Wassel was 10th on beam (8.9). York was sixth (season-high 134.15) and tied for fifth in the final overall standings because it beat Lyons Township in their dual meet.

Rihs had the fortune of competing alongside some of her fellow Wildcats, including freshman Baylee Modaff, junior Olivia Nelson and senior Karina Hiltbrand, although none of the three qualified for state. It was a happy ending, though, for Hiltbrand, who was competing in her first sectional.

"Jane should also qualify on vault, so she'll likely be there on all four, but it'll be tough for any of the others to get there," Wildcats coach Katie Novorolsky said. "It was nice for (Karina) to be here with it being her senior year, and all four did really well for the most part. They hit the routines that they were capable of doing."

Sumser tied for fourth place on vault to extend her season onto the ultimate stage at state. Sophomore teammate Chloe Tsao was there as an all-arounder and two-event qualifier but did not qualify to state this year. She will give the Huskies an experienced 1-2 punch next winter.

IC Catholic's Joey Bianchini, top, got off to a good start last week in his bid to win a second Class 1A championship.

Bianchini, Knights back for more

Wrestling notes

In its sixth year as a program, IC Catholic Prep continues to make impressive strides.

One year after Joey Bianchini earned a historic feat by claiming an individual state championship, the Knights qualified all 12 of their wrestlers out of the Class 1A Lisle regional over the weekend.

All of the individuals' accomplishments were needed as the Knights scored 177 points to ease past runner-up Westmont (170 points) and Lisle (168).

The three local programs combined for 12 of the 14 champions.

Even more important for IC Catholic Prep, the first regional championship extended the season — regardless of what happens at the Hope sectional this weekend in Chicago — for the team.

"We were offered a chance to host the (dual-team) sectional," ICCP coach Kevin Sliva said. "We are actually wrestling on our home court. It's going to be fantastic."

Bianchini, an uncommitted senior, improved to 33-3 on the season with his regional title at 138 pounds.

Fellow returning all-star and classmate Victor Vargas emerged victorious at 195 pounds.

Freshman 160-pounder Kyle Franklin claimed the last of the three championships for the Knights.

"All of our guys qualified," Sliva said of edging out Westmont and Lisle. "That made a huge difference. All the guys (five) who were wrestling for third won."

"If we would have wrestled the way we should have, we would have won it," Lisle coach John Ruettiger said.

Joe Chan (113 pounds), Jack Kelly (145), Connor Keebaugh (182) and heavyweight Kevin Paz won titles for the Lions.

After 36 years of service to the program, Ruettiger will retire at the conclusion of the season.

"I feel like I am ready to go," Ruettiger said. "It's time for someone else to take over."

Ruettiger mentored eight state champions during his tenure.

"We were a perennial (small-school) power the whole time," Ruettiger said.

Westmont has five regional champions in the sectional mix in Bryan Baldwin (106 pounds), Anthony Salgado (126), Christian Zubiate (132), Curtis Green (152) and Jake Juska (220).

"We will be respecting all of our opponents and not overlooking anyone," Sliva said of the Knights' sectional approach.

The first road trip:

As the lone local entrant in the Class 3A Alton sectional, Nequa Valley had two champions and seven total qualifiers out of the Joliet Central regional on Saturday.

The Wildcats finished a distant runner-up to defending state champion Lockport in the team competition in Joliet.

DuPage Valley Conference champion Jacob Boumans and Denis Murphy were the Wildcats' regional victors at 170 and 126 pounds, respectively.

"I think they both wrestled one of their best matches of the season," Nequa Valley first-year coach Mike Mucha said. "There's no reason why they shouldn't be competing in Champaign for a medal."

Nequa Valley more than doubled its output of sectional qualifiers from a season ago.

"It was a step in the right direction," Mucha said of the regional. "Last year we only had two qualifiers. It's an improvement. That's what we're trying to do."

An amazing field:

The bulk of the local large-school programs will be at the Class 3A Hinsdale Central and Larkin sectionals this weekend.

The Hinsdale Central complex once again has engendered fundamental issues of equity among local coaches.

Juggernaut Montini — along with Chicago Catholic League rivals Marmion and Mt. Carmel — headlines the field along with south suburban powerhouse Sandburg, the Marist champion, which has multiple team state titles in its illustrious history.

"I have been at Hinsdale for nine years, and the sectional has always been brutal," Red Devils coach Jason Hayes said. "You have to deal with it."

"We have to try and do our best," said Metea Valley coach Claudio Torres, who qualified five wrestlers to Hinsdale out of the Naperville Central regional. "I was hoping the IHSA would seed (the sectional) like they do for the other sports. It's about the same difficulty (to advance to state) as last year (at Downers North)."

"That all these teams are put in the same sectional is ridiculous," said Waubonsie Valley coach Brad Caldwell, who will have Naperville Central 145-pound champion Lucas Bratland to anchor the Warriors' fortunes.

Both Hayes and Caldwell said advancement out of the Red Devils' sectional could have major implications at the University of Illinois' State Farm Center the following weekend.

"Your probability of getting on the (state) podium is higher," Hayes said.

"You have a pretty good shot at placing (at state)," Caldwell said.

Like Glenbard North junior Abe Assad (170 pounds) and Willowbrook senior Jack Jessen at Larkin, Downers South top-ranked 195-pounder Sergio Villalobos seeks to extend a perfect season this weekend at Hinsdale Central.

Going for a record:

Jessen was on track to make history for Willowbrook in the first of the two state preliminaries at Leyden. But there were only seven wrestlers at the Leyden regional at 182 pounds.

"They didn't have a full bracket," Willowbrook coach Brandon Murphy said. "He only had two matches. He was positioned to break the record."

But the Northwest-bound Jessen will have to settle for tying the all-time wins record by running the table in his seven remaining matches, assuming he goes to state.

Jessen enters the Larkin sectional with 44 consecutive victories to start the season; the two-time state runner-up has a varsity mark of 194-7.

"The record is 201," Murphy said. "I am just going to enjoy him (the last two weeks of his career). I don't like big surprises. I will be paying attention to the guys he may face."

Hearing a pin drop:

Assad was one of nine Glenbard East regional champions who had a fall in the climatic match.

Jamie Suarez and Antowon Tolbert did likewise for Wheaton North — third to Glenbard North and St. Charles East at Glenbard East — in advancing to Larkin at 126 and 195 pounds.

"At this kind of meet, you expect guys to go all six minutes," Tolbert said.

"I don't know what it was," Glenbard North coach Mark Hahn said of the inordinate number of pins in the championship round in Lombard.

"We preach bonus points," said Wheaton North coach Travis Cherry, who will have nine qualifiers at Larkin. "That's how you win tournaments."

The traveling Bison:

Grayslake Central will be the preferred destination for the heart of the local Class 2A programs.

In capturing its third consecutive regional championship Saturday at Fenwick, Fenton, which earned a date with Antioch at its dual-team sectional in two weeks, had returning state qualifier Dylan Butts (182 pounds) as one of its four champions in Oak Park.

Fenton, which also crowned David Burch (120 pounds), Anthony Park (170) and heavyweight Isaiah Brock, has nine total qualifiers.

In addition Glenbard South, St. Francis and Wheaton Academy produced four combined champions and 11 other qualifiers.

"We are going to have to beat some pretty good kids to qualify," Fenton coach Brian Hastings said. "I think we will be up for the challenge. (Butts) is wrestling a lot more intelligently."

Hector Andres and Minani Alexis emerged victorious for Glenbard South at 106 and 152 at Fenwick.

Connor Scanlon (160 pounds) and Danny Skold (220) won respective titles for Wheaton Academy and St. Francis.

What a delightful thing for Lake Zurich girls basketball coach Chris Bennett to do.

He has this book, you see, and keeps it handy. It includes every player who has scored a basket for the Bears program, dating back to 1985.

Girls basketball

So in preparation for senior night on Monday night, he had sent a note to Maine West coach Kim de Marigny. And on Lake Zurich's senior night, Maine West agreed to allow senior Elena Papastratakos to score the first basket of this nonconference game.

"Elena has not played much," Bennett said. "She had a number of knee injuries. I wanted to get her in the book."

Papastratakos scored the only Lake Zurich basket of the first quarter. By that time it was 21-2 Maine West. This state power (25-1) breezed to a 53-21 win, breaking the Bears' five-game winning streak.

"They are a potential state title team," Bennett said. "They have a terrific matchup zone."

The Warriors have a few players headed to the next level. However, another player to watch is 6-2 sophomore, Angela Dugalic, who finished with 12 points, 6 rebounds and 4 steals.

"This is a family," Dugalic said. "These are the best sisters you can have. I believe we can go far this year."

Half of Dugalic's points came from the free throw line. De Marigny feels good about her club this season.

"Our team loves to play basketball," she said. "This group is very unselfish."

The game was virtually over at halftime as Maine West led 31-7.

Both teams were able to play most of roster in the second half. Margueret Spear had back-to-back scores late in the third quarter for Lake Zurich. She ended up in second place in her team's scoring with those 4 points.

Lake Zurich adds to its book, but Maine West breezes
