Daily Herald Reports

When you're down, it's a good idea to put the ball in the hands of your best players.

That's what visiting Naperville Central did in the second set of a 22-25, 25-17, 26-24 boys volleyball win at Naperville North on Thursday evening.

After falling 25-22 in a sloppy first set, Redhaws coach Roger Strausberger decided to force feed the ball to Benedictine University commit John Davis and sophomore Carter Stenmark.

To say it was merely just a good idea would be an understatement.

"(Davis) was just terminating balls there in the second set," Strausberger said. "And then Carter (Stenmark) was playing a lot smarter in the second set there as well. Those two guys get a lot of balls for us, so we need them to be efficient."

Five of the Redhaws' first seven points in the second set were the result of kills from Davis. The two teams played even through seven points before Naperville Central

Roundup

(20-12, 2-4 DuPage Valley Conference) grabbed the lead at 9-8 and then went on a 7-2 run before a Huskies time-out. Stenmark notched five kills in the set as the Redhaws cruised 25-17. But it was Davis' start and Stenmark's end that set the tone in the second set.

Stenmark finished the match with a team-high 16 kills on 32 attempts. Davis notched 13 kills while senior Felix Egharevba, who was playing his first game since recovering from a leg injury, had 4 blocks and 6 kills. All three players should really buy senior setter Timothy Follard a sandwich after the game for distributing 32 total assists, which allowed for their gaudy numbers.

Fittingly, Davis nailed down the winning kill from the left side to help his Redhaws edge the Huskies 26-24 in the ultracompetitive final game.

"Guys were playing so hard and that's really all I can ask of them," Naperville North coach Nathan Bormancin said after the game. "It's really hard to think what I would do different because the guys were playing so hard and I'm really proud of them."

Down 24-22 in the final game, Huskies junior John Jaworski slammed down a kill and junior Henry Zhou followed that up with a block to knot the game at 24. But Naperville Central responded with two kills in a row to notch their second conference victory of the season.

Zhou and Jaworski led the way for the Huskies (15-17, 2-4) with 7 kills apiece, with Jaworski adding 14 digs for good measure. It was an evening full of lessons for a young Naperville North team still looking to find its way.

"Being so young, this is great experience for us on how to battle especially after losing the second set and our guys kind of questioning themselves and the confidence wavering," Bormancin said. "But we came out really well in that third set, it was back and forth. I really felt like it could have gone either way in the end."

Helton highlights outstanding students

In his regular newsletter column, District 88 Superintendent Dr. Scott Helton recently reported on students achievement at both Willowbrook and Addison Trail high schools. He reported that the outstanding students were recently featured on Addison's own Cable TV Channel, ACTV.

• Willowbrook senior Jack Jessen: Jessen earned a State Championship after winning the 182-pound division of the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) Wrestling State Tournament, which took place from Feb. 15 to 17 at State Farm Center in Champaign. With that title, Jessen tied the IHSA's all-time wins record with 201. Jessen also has set numerous school records for the Willowbrook Wrestling Team and is the program's seventh individual champion. He has competed in national tournaments as well, including winning a national title during the USA Wrestling U.S. Marine Corps Cadet & Junior National Championships this past July, where he won the 182-pound Junior Greco-Roman U.S. Marine Corps National Championship and also earned 2nd place in the Junior Freestyle National Championship.

• Willowbrook junior Levi Bentsen: Bentsen competed in the IHSA Three-Point Show-down, which took place from March 15 to 17 at the Peoria Civic Center in Peoria.

• Willowbrook senior Ethan Schuemer: Schuemer earned Illinois Basketball Coaches Association 3rd Team All-State recognition. Through his years on the Willowbrook Boys Basketball Team, Schuemer has received several other honors and recognitions as well. He is Willowbrook's first 1,000-point scorer and became the school's all-time leading scorer for a career.

• Willowbrook junior Holly Helsper: Helsper was named as an All-State bowler after finishing in 11th place at the IHSA Girls Bowl-

Man sentenced to seven years for DUI hit-and-run

Incident took place in Villa Park

DuPage County State's Attorney Robert B. Berlin announced last week that a Glen Ellyn man accused of a hit-and-run crash in Villa

Park has been sentenced to seven years in the Illinois Department of Corrections. Lawrence Sieber, 64, of 89 S. Park Avenue, appeared at a sentencing hearing where Judge Jeffrey MacKay handed down the sentence. On March 5, Sieber entered a plea of guilty to one count of Aggravated DUI Causing Great Bodily Harm, a Class 4 felony.

On January 22, 2017, at approximately 4:50 p.m., Sieber ignored a stop sign at Ardmore and Jackson in Villa Park and T-boned another vehicle in the intersection, severely injuring the driver. Following that crash, Sieber fled the scene and was involved in three other crashes, one in Villa Park and two in Lombard. Responding officers located Sieber driving his truck on Roosevelt Road and began to pursue Sieber. During the pursuit, while stopped at a traffic light, Sieber rammed his truck into the car in front of him in an effort to elude arrest but was unsuccessful. He was taken into custody at that time following a brief struggle with officers in which he had to be forcibly removed from his truck. He appeared in Bond Court the following day and has remained in custody since that time at the DuPage County Jail on a bond of $750,000 with 10 percent to apply.

"There is a reason why drinking and driving is against the law — to protect the motoring public from people like Mr. Sieber," Berlin said. "Not only did Mr. Sieber think nothing of driving after he had been drinking, he thought nothing of the potential harm he could cause to others. Unfortunately, he did cause serious harm to another motorist who will forever be afflicted by the injuries caused by Mr. Sieber. He didn't stop there, however. In an attempt to avoid responsibility, Mr. Sieber thought nothing of driving after he had been involved in that crash and was subsequently involved in three other crashes before finally being taken into custody. Thankfully, those crashes did not result in serious injury to anyone else.

"I would like to thank the Villa Park and Lombard Police Departments for their outstanding work in apprehending Mr. Sieber before he could do any further harm."

Sieber will be required to serve 85 percent of his sentence before being eligible for parole.

Islamic Relief USA holds Ramadan Pack-Out event in Addison

Islamic Relief USA held its annual Ramadan Food Box Pack-Out sessions in four states this year: Texas, New Jersey, Illinois, and Virginia.

Illinois event was held on Saturday, April 28 at New Royal Distributors in Addison.

Volunteers packed boxes with nonperishable foods to be distributed to those in need in local communities through food pantries, houses of worship, and other locations. The goal was to create 5,000 packaged meals. All food will be given to residents in the United States.

"During Ramadan, it is essential for Muslims to not only fast from sunrise to sunset," said Said Durrah, national volunteers manager for IRUSA. "It also is a time to reflect, to think about people in your community with little means, especially with regards to healthy food. The food box pack-out sessions enable local communities to make a positive difference."

Some volunteers put together and broke down boxes, others carried containers of food, and sealed packages.

This year also marks the 25th year of the founding of IRUSA.

Addison Trail boys volleyball team clinches no worse than share of conference title

All about the word
'team' for Addison
Trail girls trackBy Mike Miazga
CORRESPONDENT

The Addison Trail boys volleyball team earned itself some good news.

The Blazers downed Downers Grove South 25-18, 25-19 to move to 5-0 in West Suburban Conference Gold Division play. The win clinches at least a share of the WSC Gold title. The Blazers also improved to 19-7 overall.

Jacob Grygo had 13 assists, 10 kills and three blocks. David Zielinski had six kills and five assists. Justin Wederich had four kills, while Joe Mosny had one kill and two blocks. Bryan Florian had six digs, three assistants and one kill, while Christopher Garcia had two aces and two digs.

Addison Trail girls track

Addison Trail girls track coach Dave Pytko said one of the team's greatest assets this season is simply "a team effort throughout all our events."

That starts with the team's high jumpers. "Our high jumpers certainly have been a surprise," he said.

Paulina Stachura has jumped 4-8, while Stefania Camachi is at 4-10. Triple-jumper Stephanie Avila is closing in on 33 feet.

On the track side, Pytko noted the team has several runners clocking in the 27s, including Kate Diego and Alex Nava.

Addison Trail's distance crew has broken two school records this year. The Blazers' 3,200 relay team broke a 34-year-old team record. The group included Juliana Tamayo, Lizbeth Balbuena, Elizabeth Guerrero and Viviana Sanfilippo.

Sanfilippo also broke the 3,200 run record set 37 years ago and did so by 20 seconds. Pytko also has been impressed with the team's hurdlers. "Our hurdlers are holding their own in meets and improving each meet," he said.

On the results front, Addison Trail took first at Westmont and second at Leyden. "Those are a couple meets that can really tell me about the strength of our team as a unit," said Pytko. "We still have many areas that we are strong in and we will be better for next season."

Pytko added working hard never is a question that has to be asked with this year's group. "I really like that many of our athletes are expressing they want to work harder and are prepared to do so," he said.

"The wild card this season has been the weather. Fortunately we have had a few more meets than many of our conference and sectional competitors, so it will be interesting how we finish in those two meets. We have a lot of natural ability. The season has just been so short, especially outdoors, to get a real good look at our team."

Fenton boys track team enjoys success in numerous events

Distance and throws are the Bison's calling cards this spring

By Mike Miazga
CORRESPONDENT

Jumping, throwing, sprinting and running long distances.

Those are the categories that make the Fenton boys track team tick this spring.

Fenton has a number of key distance runners in Michael Lieggi, Cristian Sanchez, Randy Almarales and Jeremy Lodewyck. Jimmy Deckert is throwing more than 120 feet in the discus and DJ Kelly has performed well in the sprints and jumps (18-4 in long jump), coach Clint Porter noted.

"We are strongest in the distance events and some of the throws," said Porter. "One of the main reasons we are so strong in the distance area is many of our runners train all year for cross-country and track. As far as throws we have an excellent throws coach in Lee Cassidy who has coached several state qualifiers."

Porter noted Lieggi has become "very consistent" in the 800, while Sanchez "has done very well" and has improved in the 3,200.

While individuals have made progress, Porter is thrilled with how the team dynamic is falling into place. "What I like most about our team is its work ethic, strong sense of sportsmanship and their camaraderie," he said. "As a team, lack of depth limits our ability to win meets and/or compete for a conference title. Most importantly, we do have some talent that is developing well and our team atmosphere is quite strong. Our athletes enjoy being out for track and field, compete well and strive to improve. In short, they are accomplishing what we want more than anything else: improvement."

In action from earlier in the season at the Metro Suburban Conference indoor meet, Michael Wilcox took 13th in the 55 dash with a time of 7.48. Wilcox also was 12th in the 200 with a time of 27.12.

Javier Cabral was 13th in the 400 with a time of 1:01.39. Lieggi was third in the 800 in 2:12.52. Almarales was second in the 1,600 at 5:01.52. Samuel Elizondo was eighth at 5:09.97. Lodewyck won the 3,200 with a time of 10:45.47, while Sanchez was fourth at 10:58.30, giving Fenton 14 points in that event.

Nick Herringer was eighth in the 55 low hurdles in 9.49. Fenton took seventh in the 4-by-160 relay with Kelly, David Alcaraz, Cabral and Herringer.

Fenton also was seventh in the 1,600 relay in 4:12.48 with Sanchez, Christian Zavala, Nathan Exconde and Lodewyck.

Fenton took third in the 3,200 relay in 9:03.25 with Lieggi, Elizondo, Zavala and Almarales. Almarales tied for 10th in the high jump at 4-10.

Kelly was eighth in the long jump at 17-8. Cesar Bermudez was ninth in the triple jump at 29-3 1/2.

Deckert took eighth in the shot put at 39-1. Fenton finished seventh in the meet with 34 points.

At the Streamwood invitational outdoors, Cabral was 10th in the 100 in 12.39. He also took ninth in the 400 in 57.15. Lieggi was fifth in the 800 in 2:06.80. Almarales was seventh in the 1,600 in 4:52.24.

Sanchez took second in the 3,200 in 10:24.14. Herringer was third in the 300 hurdles in 47.61, while Kelly was fifth in 49.27. Fenton was seventh in the 400 relay at 48.57 with Kelly, Alcaraz, Herringer and Cabral. Fenton took seventh in the 800 relay in 1:53.51 with Bermudez, Alcaraz, Frank Baffa and Eric Ayala.

Fenton was fifth in the 3,200 relay in 8:52.14 with Lieggi, Chris Zavala, Exconde and Almarales.

The Fenton softball team scored a trio of recent wins.

The Bison were 11-1 Metro Suburban Conference Blue Division winners against Wheaton Academy and also swept a pair of games from Proviso West by scores of 12-2 and 11-1.

Fenton also lost 9-2 to Wheaton Academy, lost to IC Catholic Prep 10-0, lost to Riverside-Brookfield 12-0 and also lost a close MSC Blue contest to Aurora Central Catholic by an 11-10 score. Fenton was 7-14 overall and 1-10 in MSC Blue action through late last week.

Individually, Cynthia Ibarra was leading the team in batting average (.520) and on-base percentage (.600).

Isa Lozada was leading the way with 28 hits, while Gianna Mendoza had a team-high five doubles. Reyna DeLaTorre, Lozada and Rose Riley were tied with two triples each, while Lozada was the team leader in home runs with four. Lozada also was tops in RBI (19), runs scored (26) and stolen bases (13).

Ibarra, Gianna Mendoza and Claire Panos were leading the pitching staff with two wins each. Ashley Mitchell had the staff's only save. Ibarra and Panos were tied for the team lead in pitching strikeouts with 26 and Ibarra had the top team ERA at 3.25.

"For the most part our pitching has been a strength all season," said Mello.

Riley was cited for her strong recent performances.

"As a four-year varsity player, Rose is really finishing her career very strong," said Mello. "She has been hitting the ball very hard each at-bat and is playing a very solid third base. I'm very happy with the way she is finishing her career at Fenton."

Mello was pleased with how his team played in the Aurora Central game. "We have been very inconsistent, but a lot of that has to do with the high-level pitching we have been facing," he said. "We may have had a true breakthrough against Aurora Central when we rallied from being down 11-2 in the sixth to lose 11-10. We really had a great rally against very good pitching."

Mello said the team continues to work hard on the defensive improvement end. "We need to make the simple plays and most of the tough plays to help support our pitchers," he said. "We still can get better at everything. We really need to step everything up with regionals only (a week) away."

Willowbrook's Caroline Dooley making her mark on mound

It's her spot.

Caroline Dooley can do many things well on the softball diamond. The Willowbrook freshman hits third, a spot generally reserved for a lineup's top bat.

She's in her element, though, on the pitching mound.

"It's my favorite thing to do in softball," Dooley said. "I really just love everything about it. I feel a lot of confidence in that spot."

Willowbrook is confident with her there.

The Warriors entered the week 13-7 overall and 6-1 in the West Suburban Gold, in second place behind Downers Grove South.

Dooley, Willowbrook's No. 1 pitcher from day one, is 11-4 with a 3.4 earned run average and an impressive 112 strikeouts in 104 innings. She's also hitting .413 with 21 runs batted in, 22 runs scored and an OPS (on-base percentage plus slugging percentage) of nearly 1.100.

Needless to say, she's proved herself rather quickly.

"We have a bunch of girls that are really supportive of each other; I think our oldest players even look up to her and see what she can do," Willowbrook coach Rachel Karos said. "They trust her a lot, and they are her biggest fans. It's upped their play being able to play behind a pitcher that gets the job done. She's given a lot of girls something to be excited about."

Dooley knew early that softball was her sport.

She started in T-ball at around 6 years old. Before that she was a regular at her dad's 16-inch softball games.

"It made me start to like it," Dooley said. "Ever since that I've always been going to pitching lessons."

She now goes to pitching lessons with Jill Waldron in St. Charles. She has sharpened the spin on her assortment of seven pitches. Dooley also works with a personal trainer at Strong U Gym in Villa Park, and has seen a jump in her speed from 55 mph to close to 60 in the last year.

"I have worked on a new adjustment to make my pitches more consistent, moving them inside and outside, high and low," Dooley said. "It's really about the movement of the ball. The spin is important."

Karos has noticed a big improvement just in one year.

"From last summer to this season, she's got faster. She really committed to a workout program," Karos said. "With her work ethic, she's proven that hard work pays off."

Dooley considers her screwball her best pitch right now, but she also can call on any other pitch from a fastball, drop or curve.

"She has a lot of options and she's pretty strong with all of them," Karos said. "She makes hitters think and keeps them off balance. With her movement and being able to change speeds, I knew she would be good."

The Warriors have proved to be a team with no quit this spring.

They rallied from down 8-2 to Schaumburg for a 10-9 walk-off win, and rallied from 8-0 down to York for a 12-11 win. They beat Plainfield Central, and took Plainfield South to extra innings.

A second Willowbrook freshman, second baseman Annemarie Knudtson, is hitting .486 going into the week. Junior first baseman Amy Bussa is hitting .438, senior third baseman Katie Smith is hitting .403, junior Brianna Richardson is hitting .350 and sophomore shortstop Shannon Knudtson is hitting .300.

Dooley is a natural leader in the group.

"She doesn't view herself as a freshman," Karos said. "She is experienced in softball, and we expect her to do a lot. She's risen to the challenge every time. The passion she has for the game will take her a long way."

Montini coach Thuma lost a leg, not his ability to lead

BY GREGG VOSS
Daily Herald Correspondent

Take a close look at Mike Thuma on the sidelines at a Montini boys lacrosse game or practice. He's the one with the calm, easygoing demeanor, always exhorting his players to find a way to win, or short of that, improve.

But this isn't the same Mike Thuma from the start of the season back in early March, his first as Montini coach. Sure, he's always been quick with a smile (or a frown when the moment warrants on the playing field), but there is something missing.

His left leg, which was amputated below the knee April 26 due to his ongoing fight against synovial sarcoma, a rare form of cancer. It was the day before his team was to take on St. Laurence.

That following Monday, though, Thuma was back at Montini, on crutches, the lower half of his left pant leg folded and clipped to the upper half, as his charges took the field against St. Laurence.

Glenbard East gets its big inning in game's beginning

Daily Herald Reports

Glenbard East's baseball team always feels like a big inning is coming.

The Rams didn't have to wait very long on Tuesday.

They batted around in the bottom of the first and rode that momentum to a 6-2 Upstate Eight Conference Valley Division victory over West Chicago in Lombard.

The 5-run burst was especially important after the Wildcats opened the game with a 2-run top of the first on Ryan Schmidt's 2-run, two-out single. After that rough patch Rams starting pitcher Taylor Westerhoff settled in for 6 solid innings.

"The top of the first we kind of saw it going south, but we knew we'd get it back," said Rams junior Bret Bushka, who drove in the first run with an RBI single. "It really helped that we got right back on top. We've started out slow in a lot of games this year, but it was nice not to have to wait until the fifth, sixth, seventh inning. We don't want to get in the habit of having to wait for that big inning."

Westerhoff retired seven straight after the 2-run single and allowed only 2 hits over his final five innings. West Chicago starter Jeff Zajac also settled down, allowing no hits from the second through the fifth innings.

Unfortunately for the Wildcats (5-20, 2-11), they couldn't recapture the plate success of the first inning. They had runners on second and third with one out in the sixth inning but Westerhoff pitched out of the jam.

"We came off the bus ready to play with a lot of intensity, but then we struggled in the bottom of the first," said West Chicago coach T.J. Nall. "Both pitchers did a good job stabilizing and keeping the game where it was. It's a shame we gave them that big inning in the first."

Jeremy Johnson and William Brown added RBI singles in the first inning. Mitchell Glennon also drove in a run with a groundout.

The Rams (19-10, 9-4) scored their final run in the sixth inning on an RBI double by Noah Davies.

"Taylor's been our workhorse on the mound all season," said Glenbard East coach Joel Pelland. "And offensively we put together a pretty good inning. When a team scores on us, we have to answer back. Scoring five was huge for us."

Glenbard West d. Lyons Twp.:

Glenbard West 6-foot-8 senior J.T. Ardell has grown accustomed to big and enthusiastic home crowds for his digs. Ardell added 4 blocks.

Afterward, the players and alumni shared hugs, laughs and pizza in the foyer.

"It's really cool because my whole class grew up at West watching them play on varsity, and they were the superstars," Williams said. "Now watching them come back and watch us in their shoes is really cool."

The Hilltoppers are the No. 1 seed in the Addison Trail sectional and begin next week's playoffs in the Geneva regional. Their regular-season finale is Thursday at St. Charles North, the sectional's No. 5 seed.

Over the last four seasons, they have lost only six matches. Ardell never lost a home match in three varsity seasons and his 2014 freshman season with the sophomores, a combined 32-0 record.

"We just treat Biester as utmost importance like you need to defend your home. We don't take it for granted and we play the best we can and enjoy it," Glenbard West coach Christine Giunta-Mayer said. "I think they came out and truly enjoyed other, realizing this will be the last time the team will be together in this gym with an opponent."

For the match Glenbard West had 28 kills with 6 attack errors. Eight straight points served by Morris opened an 18-5 lead in the first set. Metz's five straight points created a 12-4 cushion in the second set, which also included 6 Ardell kills.

"Just in general, we're jelling more, just our chemistry has improved a lot on the court. I feel more relaxed with the guys around me on the court," Ardell said.

Naperville Central 1, Oswego East 0:

Naperville Central had one goal during Tuesday's Class 3A East Aurora regional semifinal against Oswego East: To win and play for a championship on Friday.

That goal was accomplished thanks to a single goal from Maddie Redeker as the Redhaws held off a talented and stubborn Oswego East team 1-0.

"I understand with restarts that some say they're not the purest part of the game, but man, did she go up and absolutely hammer that ball," Redhaws coach Ed Watson said. "It was well placed, the service was great and she got on the end of it and caught it flush."

The timing was also on the dot as the Redhaws scored in the final minute of the opening half to seize momentum, which they naturally carried into the second half.

continue to find goals and we haven't been pretty all year so why would it be different today," Watson said. "We had a lot of opportunities, but when you're a team that struggles to score, you tend to struggle to score, and that was us again today."

Hinsdale Central 1, Willowbrook 0, 20T:

It was exactly like other soccer matches that go extra time. The tension level goes up, the physical play picks up and the teams are wondering when something will break.

Soccer is a sport where one goal might just be enough and no squad wants to give up the first one. The fortunate team on Tuesday night was Hinsdale Central when Haley Arnold headed in a cross from Madigan Lynch just 33 seconds into the second overtime in a Class 3A Downers Grove North regional semifinal to send their team to a 1-0 win over Willowbrook.

The Red Devils, seeded seventh in the Class 3A York sectional, advance to the 4:30 p.m. Friday regional final against the second-seeded hosts at Doerhoefer Park in Downers Grove.

Downers North beat the Red Devils 1-0 in West Suburban Silver play on April 24.

Hinsdale Central coach Bryan Ciesiulka, whose team improved to 8-10-2, was happy, like his team, with the win but realized that neither team dominated the game.

"(Willowbrook is) a great team. They're organized, they're dangerous on the break. This game could have gone either way," he said.

"Everyone is getting antsy and you try to get them to stay calm in a game like tonight's."

Warriors goalkeeper Zoe Ericson and the Willowbrook defense earned the praise of coach Julio Del Real for keeping Hinsdale Central out of the net for just over 90 minutes.

"(The defense) has been a strength all season and the defense has created opportunities for us," he said.

Ericson finished with 15 saves.

Tenth-seeded Willowbrook, which finished the season at 9-9, had its best opportunity to score with just 2:11 remaining in regulation time.

Lizzy Florey took a pass from Julianna Paulsen and her shot from 10-15 yards out forced Red Devils goalie Taylor Ward to quickly grab the shot, which bounced off her hand, and she then grabbed the ball for good.

Wheaton Academy 17, St. Francis 16, 0T:

Ian Venard simply refused to lose Tuesday.

Venard, a junior attackman for the Wheaton Academy boys lacrosse team, scored four times in the fourth quarter to send the Warriors' game against St. Francis into overtime. Then he buried the game-winner with 50 seconds left.

"That's 5 of 7 total goals for Venard this night in a see-saw affair Wheaton Academy ended up winning 17-16."

"We know what we have in Ian, but he's not always called on to be the dodger for us," said Venard's coach, Geoff Weisenborn, who saw his team improve to 9-4 with the nonconference win. "We have a lot of different guys we try to call the number for in different games, and at this point, we felt in the fourth quarter it was Ian's time."

Venard took advantage. With 1:27 to go and his team down 16-14, Venard turned and fired from the top right side, depositing the ball into the left corner of the net.

Forty-one seconds later, Venard sent the game into overtime with a left-side shot into the right side of the net.

St. Francis and Wheaton Academy traded near misses most of the overtime period before Venard got loose with 50 seconds left, taking a pass on the right side and firing a shot as he fell to his knees that pierced the back of the net.

Ballgame.

But Venard was quick to give credit to where credit was due. Sure he scored, but he had plenty of help.

"It wasn't all me," Venard said. "We worked as team collectively, hyping each other up and we just worked hard. My teammates (were) carrying me, and (it was) us rallying together and being good teammates and wanting it so bad."

He was quick to credit senior faceoff specialist Marc Whitaker, who essentially turned the game into a make-it, take-it proposition in the fourth quarter with his ability to win the ball.

"He was huge, probably the key component of that fourth quarter and the overtime," Venard said.

Haigh returns to Kemper to set challenging course for Women's PGA Championship

By Len Ziehm

Kerry Haigh, Chief Championships Officer for the PGA of America, is in charge of setting up Kemper Lakes Golf Club for June's KPMG Women's PGA Championship, and he's no stranger to the Chicago golf scene.

Haigh was even around when Kemper Lakes, located in Kildeer, hosted its only tournament that was bigger than the upcoming one — the 1989 PGA Championship. He worked for Northbrook-based KemperSports in 1988 and 1989.

His role in golf got much bigger after that, when he joined the PGA of America. Not to be confused with the PGA Tour, this PGA is also Florida-based and embraces the 29,000 club professionals world-wide. While the PGA Tour basically puts on men's pro tournaments, the PGA of America is much more broadly based.

Boys volleyball

Glenbard West d. Lyons Twp.:

Glenbard West 6-foot-8 senior J.T. Ardell has grown accustomed to big and enthusiastic home crowds for his boys volleyball matches at Biester Gymnasium.

Along the top row for Tuesday's home finale against Lyons Township sat a large group of former players, many of whom contributed to the Hilltoppers' current streak of three consecutive state championships.

"We just saw them in the crowd before the game so we knew they were here," Ardell said. "I think it helps a lot. It's nice to have friends in the stands. It keeps us relaxed."

The result was more of the same.

The Hilltoppers prevailed 25-10, 25-14 in Glen Ellyn to complete their fifth straight 6-0 run through the West Suburban Silver for their sixth conference championship in seven seasons. The Hilltoppers (31-3) also have won 30 matches five straight seasons and seven of the last eight.

Pepperdine recruit Ardell and junior Connor Williams each had 7 kills and juniors Ryan Swartz and Stone Metz 6 each. Junior Henry Curtis had 30 assists and junior libero Zack Morris and sophomore Ben Harrington each had 7 ship on Friday.

That goal was accomplished thanks to a single goal from Maddie Redeker as the Redhawks held off a talented and stubborn Oswego East team 1-0.

"I understand with restarts that some say they're not the purest part of the game, but man, did she go up and absolutely hammer that ball," Redhawks coach Ed Watson said. "It was well placed, the service was great and she got on the end of it and caught it flush."

The timing was also on the dot as the Redhawks scored in the final minute of the opening half to seize momentum, which they naturally carried into the second half having already controlled most of possession for the first 40 minutes.

"It really boosted us," Redhawks senior Jessica Sonner said. "We really had possession for most of the game but nothing to show for it so I definitely think that goal at the end of the first half helped push us into the second half."

Sonner assisted on the goal as she sent in a corner kick in front of the far post toward Redeker.

"I know Jess usually hits it toward the back post so that's usually where I run to," Redeker said. "We call it the three or four spot. I usually look up to see where the ball is and if I'm not in the right spot I backpedal and run onto it and that's what I did and hit it down toward the goal."

Naperville Central (10-12-1) had chances before Redeker and plenty after as well with Hannah Bradley-Leon, Abbey Hillman, Emma Irlle and Caroline Reedy among others applying pressure on Oswego East but proving unable to finish.

Kerry Haigh, Chief Championships Officer for the PGA of America, is in charge of setting up Kemper Lakes Golf Club for June's KPMG Women's PGA Championship, and he's no stranger to the Chicago golf scene.

Haigh was even around when Kemper Lakes, located in Kildeer, hosted its only tournament that was bigger than the upcoming one — the 1989 PGA Championship. He worked for Northbrook-based KemperSports in 1988 and 1989.

His role in golf got much bigger after that, when he joined the PGA of America. Not to be confused with the PGA Tour, this PGA is also Florida-based and embraces the 29,000 club professionals world-wide. While the PGA Tour basically puts on men's pro tournaments, the PGA of America is much more broadly based.

Staging big tournaments, though, are part of the PGA's focus and the KPMG Women's PGA Championship is one of the biggest. Once called the LPGA Championship, it brings together the very best players in women's golf. The 64th staging of the event will take over Kemper Lakes from June 26 to July 1.

While most of the PGA tournaments are for men, Haigh has played a major role in women's events as well. He worked for the Ladies PGA Tour for four years before coming to Kemper and also directed the 1988 Women's Kemper Open in Hawaii.

"I know how wonderful the women PGA players are. They're incredible," said Haigh following a two-day planning session at Kemper Lakes seven weeks before the tournament proper. "Their overall fitness and dedication are comparable to the men's tour."

The women's skills were on display nearby last year when the tournament was played at Olympia Fields Country Club in Chicago's south suburbs. Comparisons with Kemper Lakes are inevitable.

"Olympia Fields was outstanding," said Haigh. "There are more trees there, and it was a wonderful test of golf. Kemper Lakes has a lot more water. It comes into play on six or seven holes. It's a more modern course and, in its own way, could be more difficult and challenging than Olympia Fields."

Kemper Lakes' last three holes comprise the toughest finishing stretch in Chicago golf, and the club's members decided over the winter to give that treacherous part of the course a name. It's now called The Gauntlet.

"Those three holes are as challenging for everyone and anyone, just as they are for all of us," said Haigh.

He remembers Kemper Lakes from 29 years ago, when the top men battled for the PGA Championship there. The course was only 10 years old at that time.

"It's matured beautifully," he said. "The bunkers are significantly more in play now, and they're more penal. It's a really good test and the greens can make it really difficult."

While the course can play as long as 7,345 yards from the back tees, Haigh said tournament yardage for the KPMG Women's PGA Championship will be set at 6,700 yards. It'll be a par-72 with four par-5s, four par-3s and 10 par-4s.

"And we'll never go longer than 6,700 yards," Haigh said. He estimated that each day's setup during the tournament would produce a course that played about 6,500.

Conroy focuses on mental health services for students

State Rep. Deb Conroy, D-Villa Park, sponsored and helped pass House Bill 5770, which seeks to improve access to supportive services in schools for students throughout Illinois.

"This bill addresses the serious but often overlooked issue of mental health in our schools," said Conroy, who serves as chair of the House Mental Health Committee. "Often times, parents and families simply are not aware of the resources that are available to help their children, and my legislation seeks to increase access to the information and education about these resources. This bill requires every school district in the state of Illinois to notify every parent that they may be eligible for supportive services through a 504 plan if their student has a mental health diagnosis."

House Bill 5770 requires school boards to notify students and parents of school-based supportive mental health services that the student could be eligible to receive. Mental health services are guaranteed under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, which prohibits discrimination on the basis of physical or mental disability.

Illinois schools receive federal funding to provide special education services to fulfill the requirements of Section 504. There is currently no requirement that school districts proactively notify families that their child could be eligible for services. The bill passed the House with unanimous support.

"Mental health is an invisible disability that many of our students deal with in silence," said Conroy. "We have so many students struggling with anxiety and depression and we have a responsibility to ensure they have the support they need to be healthy and successful. This bill is one step of many that we must take to bring positive change to our mental health system."

Illinois Senate passes mandatory LGBT history curriculum for schools

ILLINOIS NEWS NETWORK

Illinois state senators passed an amended bill last week that would require lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender history to be taught in public schools.

The measure, which has no funding component, next goes to the House. It mandates LGBT history be worked into U.S. and state history curriculum in schools.

State Sen. Heather Steans amended Senate Bill 3249 to ease concerns from opponents, she said.

"It requires the study on the roles and contributions of LGBT people and the history of this state and the country," Steans, D-Chicago, said. "We've made a lot of changes based on a lot of input, which I appreciate, and it's incorporating it just in the study of history like it does for many other populations in this state."

Despite the changes, state Sen. Chuck Weaver, R-Peoria, remained opposed. He said there's still concerns about added mandates with no funding.

"There's also concerns about religious freedom in regard to folks who may have a difference of opinion with regard to how this is handled on a curriculum basis," Weaver said.

The measure is limited to public schools. It wouldn't apply to private or religious schools.

State Sen. Jason Barickman, R-Bloomington, said the bill is not a new mandate and simply weaves LGBT contributions into existing school curriculum.

"I think it ensures simply that the history that is taught is factual and

"It requires the study on the roles and contributions of LGBT people and the history of this state and the country."

—State Sen. Heather Steans, D-Chicago

accurate," Barickman said.

Steans said her bill will help students who feel isolated.

"What we find is that there's an enormous drop, 36 percent drop, in people feeling bullied and getting derogatory remarks made about them when they're included in the curriculum," Steans said.

Locally elected school board members want decide what is taught in their schools rather than be told what students should learn from lawmakers in Springfield, said Zach Messersmith, director of government relations for the Illinois Association of School Boards.

"We have a clear directive from our membership to oppose all curricular mandates that come before the General Assembly," he said. "We believe that locally elected school boards should be able to determine curricula for their students as long as it meets Illinois Learning Standards."
