Addison Trail girls basketball team wins two games at Lisle

Blazers return to conference play this week

By Mike Miazga
CORRESPONDENT

The Addison Trail girls basketball team came away with a pair of wins at the recent Lisle Christmas tournament.

The Blazers finished out the event with a 15-point win against Aurora Rosary. Addison Trail opened the tournament with a triumph against Elgin St. Edward and then lost the middle two games to Reed-Custer

(by 4 points) and St. Francis (by a single bucket).

Addison Trail defeated St. Edward 50-49, lost to Reed-Custer 42-38, lost to St. Francis 49-47 and defeated Rosary 41-26.

"We played really well," said Addison Trail coach Rob Schader. "Reed-Custer was a huge team. They were really big and we were neck and neck with them. They sat in a 1-3-1 zone. It was tough. We don't see that a lot."

Addison Trail downed Glenbard East the Saturday before Christmas in a non-conference game. "We went 3-2 in those five games," Schader pointed out. "We are playing better basketball than we were the first quarter of the season. The five or seven games before that we would get down big by like seven, 10 or 14 points and then have to battle back. We didn't have enough in the tank. We have played pretty solid here these last five games."

Schader said defense has been a bright spot of late. "Our defense is really solid," he said. "We're keeping teams to around 38 or 40 points a game."

The coach also is seeing progress at the other end of the floor. "We handle the ball pretty well and we're starting to score more," he said. "We have been working on our shooting in practice and that is becoming pretty solid."

On the individual front, Schader had high praise for the likes of Serena Gilliam, Quiana Birmingham, Angelina Carreras, Karime Martinez and Mia Johnson of late. Birmingham is a freshman.

"Serena and Quiana are playing well," Schader stated. "Angelina is starting to score more for us. She's at seven or eight points a game. Karime does a lot of other things for us. Mia Johnson is a sophomore who is starting to play better. She's very athletic. She's a two-sport athlete (also plays volleyball) who can jump a ton. I wouldn't be surprised if she plays both sports in college at a smaller school."

After Lisle, Addison Trail sat at 7-10 overall and 2-5 in West Suburban Conference Gold Division play.

"Our conference is pretty solid," said Schader, "but we definitely see some winnable games coming up. We have Downers Grove South (earlier this week) coming up and that was our worst game of the year by far the first time we played them. It will be interesting to play them again."

The Blazers face Hinsdale South in another conference game Saturday night in Darien.

Willowbrook girls basketball team continues strong play

Warriors go 3-1 at Wheaton North; Defeat conference tri-leader Downers Grove South

By Mike Miazga
CORRESPONDENT

The Willowbrook girls basketball team's lone conference loss thus far came at home at the hands of Downers Grove South in a game where the Warriors led by double digits late in the game.

Heading into the new year, the Warriors sat in a three-way tie atop the West Suburban Conference Gold Division with Downers South and Proviso East. Willowbrook defeated Proviso East in Maywood earlier in the season.

However, the recent rematch with Downers South was a completely different story. The Warriors were 50-45 come-from-behind winners in Downers Grove.

Willowbrook trailed 13-7 after the first quarter and 29-19 at halftime. But the Warriors came right back in the second half, outscoring Downers South 15-9 in the third quarter and 16-7 in the fourth quarter. Willowbrook held Downers South to 16 second-half points.

Stephanie Dasbach led the Warriors with 14 points and a game-high 15 rebounds, including 11 on the offensive end.

She also shot 4-for-4 from the free-throw line to help the Warriors shoot 70 percent there for the game (16-for-23).

Kaitlyn McCann added 10 points, which included a pair of 3-pointers. Annemarie Knudtson added eight points and five steals and made a pair of 3s. Grace Tumilty had six points, six rebounds and three assists, while Cecilia Lizasuain had six points as well.

Prior to Downers South, Willowbrook dropped a 64-49 non-conference game to Plainfield South.

Those two games followed a strong 3-1 showing at the Wheaton North Falcon Classic tournament over the holidays.

"We are moving right along," said Willowbrook coach Terry Harrell. "We went 3-1 and lost a squeaker by six points to eventual champion Glenbrook South."

Willowbrook kicked off the tournament with a win against Elgin and then lost to Glenbrook South before coming back to down West Aurora and then Schaumburg to take fifth place in the tournament.

"We played well," said Harrell. "We didn't shoot great, but we played really good defense most of the tournament."

Willowbrook trailed Glenbrook South by 18 points at halftime and then came out in the second half and held it to 10 points in the third and fourth quarters combined.

"And most of those points came in the last minute of the fourth quarter," said Harrell. "We cut it (down to) two points and then we committed a turnover with 15 seconds left. We played excellent defense in that game and put ourselves in a position to potentially win the game. I was happy with the girls' performance in the tournament. We had some girls step up and score who don't necessarily always score a lot for us."

McCann averaged 17 points a game in the tournament and earned all-tournament accolades.

Harrell also had high praise for Tumilty and Dasbach. "Grace averaged 10 points and four assists in the tournament," he noted. "She also shot 85 percent from the free-throw line, which is really big for us. Stephanie averaged five blocks per game, which is huge. That helps our defense a lot when you have someone protecting the rim like that."

Harrell lauded the efforts of Maura Heneghan off the bench, who hit two 3-pointers in the Glenbrook South game. "She helped us get back into the game," said Harrell.

Harrell added that Maureen Schmid also has been playing well lately. "Maureen has been hot lately and continued that in the tournament. She averaged two 3-pointers," he said. "All in all, a lot of girls played well for us."

With the 4-2 mark over the holidays and the first week of the new year, Willowbrook was sitting at 15-6 overall and 6-1 in WSC Gold action.

"The Downers Grove South game will be big for us," said Harrell late last week. "We lost to them by 10 points at home and led by 13 points in the fourth quarter."

Harrell has high hopes for the home stretch of the season. "We are getting better and that's nice to see," he said. "There isn't much rest to be had this season. We have three games next week and three the following week. The girls have been playing extremely well."

Fenton girls basketball team records three wins

Bison already have more than tripled last season's win total

By Mike Miazga
CORRESPONDENT

Things continue to trend upward for the Fenton girls basketball team.

The Bison recorded recent Metro Suburban Conference Red Division wins against Guerin Prep and Wheaton Academy. Fenton downed Guerin 68-25 and edged Wheaton Academy by two hoops, 48-44.

Fenton took part in the DePaul Prep tournament in Chicago. The Bison defeated Northside Prep 71-33, lost to Chicago Brooks 61-44, lost to DePaul Prep 73-55 and lost to Chicago Lincoln Park 65-55.

Fenton had a 10-9 overall mark and was 5-3 in MSC Red Division play after the DePaul Prep tournament.

At DePaul, Alexis Arzola was named to the all-tournament team. "Alexis had a very good tournament and was rewarded with the all-tournament selection," noted Fenton coach Dave Mello. "She was a force on offense and defense."

In recent times, Mello has been pleased with the team's improvement in the rebounding department. "We have been doing a really good job crashing the offensive glass," he said. "We always have gotten a good amount of offensive rebounds due to our style of play, but we have made a concerted effort to get even more in recent games."

Mello continues to see movement forward with the team's offensive system. "The pace with which the offense has been going has been really good," he said. "However, we did have a four-game stretch where we struggled to knock down the 3-point shot. Teams are doing a good job of challenging our shooters."

Mello noted during that four-game span, Fenton made 26 three-pointers. "That followed a four-game stretch where we made 56 threes," he explained. "The good news is we have made 14 in each of the last two games, so our shooting has come back."

Mello has been impressed with the team's high level of energy on defense of late. "In our loss to Lincoln Park we were able to still force 49 turnovers," he said. "We are still able to get most teams to play much faster than they would like."

Mello has two points of emphasis moving forward in the short-term. "We still can get better at taking care of the basketball and shooting free throws," he said. "We have been turning the ball over a little too much lately. A lot of the turnovers have been careless mistakes. Also, our free-throw shooting has really been down this season."

Fenton has received a bump from freshmen Hailey Miller and Sophia Haska in recent games. "Hailey and Sophia have taken huge steps forward," said Mello. "Hailey is one of our primary ball handlers and is really improving her decision-making. She also is being a lot more aggressive attacking the basket and has become a consistent 3-point shooter. She also is one of our lockdown defenders."

"Sophia has really expanded her game. She came in as someone who played most of her junior-high seasons under the basket. Now, she is not only playing down low, but also is stepping out and shooting and making 3s. On defense, she finds herself playing at the point of our pressure or as the safety. We also are looking to give her some ball-handling responsibilities."

Overall, Mello continues to see his program make large strides. "This team of girls has really impressed us so far considering the varsity was coming off back-to-back three-win seasons just two years ago and now they not only have 10 wins to go with a 5-3 conference record, but they have faced off with some of the tougher teams Fenton has played in recent years and they always compete," he said. "We are very excited about the second half of the season, but know we must take our game to a higher level in order to be successful."

Fenton heads to Norridge tonight to face Ridgewood in a conference game and will travel to Elk Grove Saturday for a non-conference contest.

Trustee Kase remains on spring ballot

Petition objector fails to show at hearing

By Dee Longfellow
FOR THE VILLA PARK REVIEW

On Wednesday, Jan. 2, the Villa Park Electoral Board held a hearing to address an objection to the petitions of Villa Park Trustee Don Kase, who is seeking re-election to his seat on the Village Board in the Consolidated Election on Tuesday, Apr. 2.

The Village Electoral Board is made up of the village president, clerk, attorney and the senior-most trustee; hence the meeting was led by President Al Bulthuis and included Clerk Hosannah Kornecky, Attorney James Binninger and Trustee Chris Aiello. There was also a court reporter to record testimony. Village Manager Richard Keehner sat in on the proceedings as well.

After taking the roll, it was noted that the objector, James Kehring, was not present, but had sent his son to represent him instead.

Binninger pointed out that if the objector could not attend, he needed to be represented by an attorney, rather than his son, who had no legal training. It was also noted that nothing had been submitted in writing from Kehring or an attorney, requesting a continuance. His son asked for a continuance to another date, explaining that his father had to work that day and that his job was "24/7."

When Aiello asked what Kehring did for a living, the young man explained that his father worked as a mechanical worker for Jewel/Osco and that he received calls every morning to tell him which store he was supposed to go to on that day and what work was to be done.

"All of us have jobs and things to do in our lives, but we all made time to come here and address these objections that were raised, so it surprises me that the objector is not here," Bulthuis said. "Here's a local attorney [pointing out Aiello], who closed his law office in order to be here."

"I feel that if we all were able to disrupt our day to be here, the objector should have done the same. I don't want to have a continuance to another date that we'll all have to take time for again."

Binninger made a point to say that proper procedures were followed in terms of notification of the meeting.

He added that there was so little time between now and the April 2 election that the decision about Kase's petitions needed to be made sooner rather than later. Bulthuis and the others agreed.

"I think we need to make a decision today and move on," Bulthuis said. "Mr. Kase needs to move forward with his election campaign. To postpone this decision because the objector is not present is not a good idea."

Binninger added that without the objector or an attorney to represent him, the charges could not be sustained.

Bulthuis then read the objection, which called into question two of Kase's petitions as possibly being signed and notarized improperly. In the objection, Kehring claimed there was "compelling evidence of flagrant disregard for election law" and that there was a "pattern of fraud."

As it turned out, there were only two petitions that were questioned by the objector, and even if those two petitions were thrown out, Kase still had enough signatures to remain on the ballot for the spring election. Yet another reason to move forward with a decision, rather than delay it with a continuance, Binninger said.

It was then moved and seconded that the objector's petition be rejected in that neither Kehring nor a representing attorney attended the hearing. The motion passed unanimously. Speaking later, Kase had no comment regarding the hearing, except to say he didn't appreciate how he had been served.

"I was served at 8 p.m. on Friday night [Dec. 28]," Kase said. "I wasn't home and my wife was scared half to death when, here it is 8 o'clock at night, I'm not home, and there's a police officer at the door. My wife was afraid something had happened to me, or something like that. She called me and we all ended up at the police station to sign the paper. We were able to get it resolved, but it seems the timing could have been a little better."

Another person at the hearing noted that hearings of this type seem like they should be "no big deal." The fact is they can be quite costly to the village in terms of staff time as well as paying the village attorney for the extra work and hiring a court reporter.

Baby shower planned for First Things First

The Lombard Service League, which prides itself in community service, is sponsoring a baby shower for First Things First. The event will be held Jan. 27, from 2-4 p.m., in First Church of Lombard's Hatfield Hall, 220 S. Main St., Lombard. The whole community is invited to attend the shower to help the league fill the First Things First pantry and closet shelves. Refreshments will be served. First Things First infant needs is a program of The Outreach House, which assists the needs of the youngest and most vulnerable members of our community by providing compassionate, emergency assistance to families in Lombard and Villa Park. The "baby basic" pantry, as well as the clothing closet, is for children up to the age of three. Pictured with items for the shower are league members (left to right) Jean Nelson, shower chairman Wendy Peca and Carol Sink. For more information, call 630-629-7573.

School District 48 appoints Dr. Jake Chung superintendent

At a recent meeting, the District 48 Board of Education approved the appointment of Dr. Jake Chung as the new superintendent of Salt Creek School District 48.

He will begin July 1, succeeding Dr. John Correll who is retiring after 13 years as superintendent in the District.

Dr. Chung has served as assistant superintendent for personnel and planning in Arlington Heights School District 25. He previously served as the principal of South Middle School, also in District 25. He was also principal of the Hoover Math and Science Academy and the Lincoln Prairie School in Schaumburg School District 54.

Having served as the Dean's Advisory Chair for the College of Education at the University of Iowa, Dr. Chung was also a past board member for the University of Iowa Alumni Association. He currently serves as an executive board member on the

Dr. Jake Chung

His wife Kimberly is an early childhood speech-language pathologist for another school district. They reside in Arlington Heights with their two boys, who are in fifth and eighth grade.

"Dr. Chung brings a wealth of experience that will serve our district well," said Board President Danae Cuny. "Dr. Chung stood out among a group of highly qualified candidates."

Chung looks forward to serving the Salt Creek School District 48 community.

"It is a tremendous honor to be appointed as the next superintendent," he said. "The school district has an amazing reputation and the teachers, staff, students and community members are extremely dedicated to the success of the schools. I look forward to collaborating with stakeholders to positively impact our students."

The Illinois Association of School Boards assisted the District 48 Board in the search. Of 58 completed applications, six candidates were interviewed by the Board. Cuny, assisted by Board legal counsel, negotiated a three-year contract on behalf of the Board of Education. Dr. Chung will begin with a 100-day transition plan during the second semester of 2018-19.

Bond set at $500,000 for Florida man accused of hijacking a car from Oak Brook Mall DuPage County State's Attorney Robert B. Berlin and Oak Brook Police Chief James Kruger recently announced that bond has been set for a Florida man accused of robbing a woman of her car from the Oak Brook Mall.

Anthony Riola

Anthony Riola, 39, appeared at a bond hearing where Judge Brian Teller set bond at $500,000 with 10 percent to apply.

In all, Riola has been charged with one count of aggravated vehicular hijacking (Class X felony), one count of armed violence (Class X felony), one count of possession of a stolen motor vehicle (Class 2 felony) and one count of theft over $10,000 (Class 2 felony).

It is alleged that at 11:50 a.m., Dec. 29, 2018, Riola approached a woman seated in her car in the Oak Brook Mall parking lot. It is alleged that Riola told the woman "Give me your car" and that he told her he had a knife and then brandished the weapon.

It is alleged Riola entered the vehicle after the woman fled but was unable to start the vehicle as he did not have the keys. It is further alleged that Riola then left the vehicle and approached a valet parking attendant and entered a running vehicle while the valet attendant and owner of the vehicle stood nearby.

It is further alleged that Riola then drove away in the vehicle. An investigation by the Oak Brook Police Department led to Riola who was apprehended in Chicago later than day.

"My office will do everything within our power to ensure that DuPage County residents will not have to worry about their personal safety while out shopping, dining or otherwise enjoying themselves this holiday season," Berlin said. "I would like to thank the Oak Brook and Chicago Police Departments for their efforts in identifying and apprehending the defendant in this case."

The Oak Brook Police Department will not tolerate this type of criminal behavior in our community, as demonstrated by the great work of our officers," Kruger said. "I would like to thank Superintendent Johnson and the Chicago Police Department for their assistance as well as DuPage County State's Attorney Robert Berlin for his support to bring this case to a successful conclusion."

Riola's next court appearance is scheduled for Jan. 28 for arraignment in front of Judge George Bakalis.

Bond set at $1 million for North Carolina man accused of aggravated DUI in I-290 crash

DuPage County State's Attorney Robert B. Berlin recently announced that bond has been set for a North Carolina man accused of causing a head-on crash while driving the wrong way on I-290 that seriously injured two individuals in an oncoming vehicle.

Chester Gordon

Chester Gordon, 24, appeared at a bond hearing where Judge Robert Miller set bond at $1 million with 10 percent to apply.

It is alleged that at approximately 4:15 a.m., Dec. 30, 2018, Gordon was driving his vehicle in the wrong direction westbound on I-290 near York Road.

It is alleged that while driving, Gordon crashed his car head-on into an eastbound vehicle, severely injuring the two occupants.

Following the crash, Gordon and the victims of the crash were transported to the hospital. Both victims required surgery to treat their injuries. Gordon was arrested and taken into custody at this time.

"Like all alleged DUI cases, the case against Mr. Gordon was 100 percent avoidable," Berlin said. "Thankfully, both victims are expected to survive their injuries. As I have said numerous times in the past, if you have been drinking, do not drive. It is a very simple idea but unfortunately, in far too many instances, people feel they are all right to drive when they are not and tragedy follows."

"Don't allow yourself to become a statistic tonight. Do yourself a favor and call a cab or use a ride-sharing service if you have been drinking. I would like to thank the Illinois State Police for their efforts in this case."

Gordon's next court appearance is scheduled for Jan. 16, in front of Judge Jeffrey MacKay.

School districts receive library grants

Secretary of State and State Librarian Jesse White awarded over $1.3 million in FY19 School District Library Grant Program awards to 694 public school districts.

More than 1.6 million Illinois students served by school library media programs have benefited from the grants.

"As a former public school teacher and administrator, I know our school libraries are very important in helping students learn and prepare themselves for the future," White said. "Illinois was the first state to implement a school district grant program, and I'm pleased that we can continue to provide school libraries with some of the financial resources they need to produce well-educated students."

Appropriations from FY19 that were approved by the General Assembly and the governor awarded school library grants based on a formula of $.75 per student, with a minimum grant award of $750. The School District Library Grant Program is used to acquire fiction and/or non-fiction books, educational CDs and DVDs, library subscriptions to electronic resources, and to improve technology by purchasing new computers or improving Wi-Fi connectivity. Information concerning the grant program can be found at: <http://www.cyberdriveillinois.com/departments/library/grants/schoolpercapgrant.html>.

District 44 is receiving $2,270.25; District 45, $2,462.25; School District 48, $750; District 89, $1,572; and (high school) District 87, $5,997.75.

Forest district: Enjoy winter activities but use caution, be prepared

The Forest Preserve District of DuPage County reminds visitors to play it safe while enjoying ice fishing, snow tubing, cross-country skiing and other fun winter activities.

"The safest way to enjoy the outdoors is with another person so you're not alone if there's an emergency," said Dan Jones, assistant site operations manager and longtime district ranger. "If that's not possible, let someone know where you're going and when you expect to be back."

For those venturing onto the ice, as a guideline not a guarantee, there should be at least 4 inches of clear ice for one person. For a larger group of people, there should be at least 8 inches of solid ice. In DuPage County's forest preserves, rangers do not monitor ice conditions, so visitors step onto the ice at their own risk. "It's always a good idea to carry a set of ice picks with you in case you fall through the ice," Jones adds.

Wind, snow, rain, sunlight, water levels, underground springs and temperature can all affect the strength of the ice, which can vary greatly over one body of water. Anyone venturing out onto the ice should know the signs of dangerous conditions:

- Cracks, ridges or faults;
- Different-colored ice, especially dark gray or black;
- Ice that looks rotten or porous;
- Ice covered by snow, water or slush;
- Running water or bubbles under the ice.

"If you fall through the ice, turn toward the direction you came from because that's probably the strongest ice," Jones said. "Place your hands and arms on the unbroken surface, kick your feet, and try to pull yourself out using ice picks if you have them. Once you're out of the water, lie flat on the ice and roll away from the hole. Get to a warm, dry, sheltered area as soon as possible and call 911."

Frostbite and hypothermia can also pose dangers, even in milder winter weather. Signs of hypothermia include shivering, exhaustion, confusion, slurred speech and loss of motor skills. Signs of frostbite, which most frequently harms extremities like fingers, toes, ears and noses, include numbness, a white or grayish-yellow skin color, or an unusual waxy feeling to the skin.

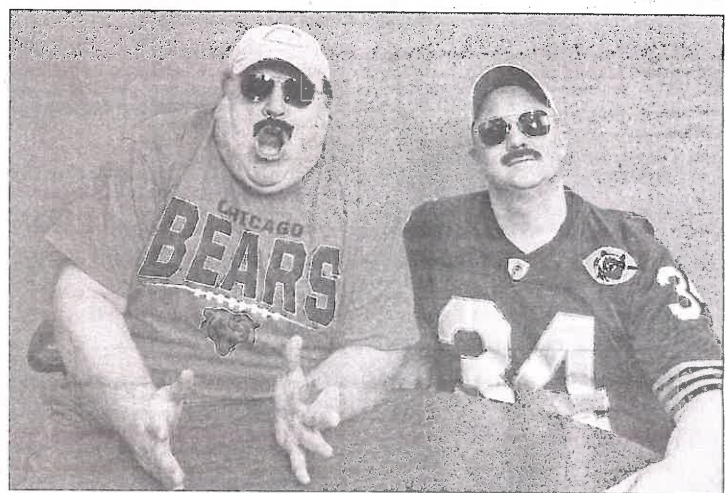

Medical attention is necessary to treat these conditions, but dressing properly in the first place can help prevent them. Dress in layers with moisture-wicking underclothes and outer heat-retaining layers. Wool, silk and synthetic fleece retain body heat better than cotton.

Waterproof boots, thick socks, a hat, and gloves or mittens help keep extremities warm. A scarf, neck tube or facemask will keep your face warm and help cover as much exposed skin as possible. Ice traction cleats will keep you from slipping on icy trails.

Keep in mind that some people are more susceptible to the cold, particularly children, the elderly and those with circulation problems.

It's also a good idea to check the weather forecast before heading outside, paying close attention to storm watches and warnings and wind chill warnings.

'Best of 2018' special

Thinking ahead to summer

Registration is now open for DuPage County residents for a great lineup of fun outdoor day camps for kids and teens through the Forest Preserve District of DuPage County at dupageforest.org/camps. Registration for non-residents begins Feb. 1. "Reduce your child's screen time and introduce them to the natural world, which is one giant, open-ended learning laboratory," said Anamari Dorgan, district director of community services and education. "Nature provides countless opportunities for discovery, creativity, problem solving and STEM education. Outdoor play fosters children's intellectual, emotional, social and physical development." Now this year, the district is now offering supervised lunch breaks and playtime before and after some camps. Programs with a B offer playtime before camps 8-9 a.m. for $45; those with an L offer supervised lunch breaks from 12-12:30 p.m. for $15, and programs with an A offer playtime after camps 3-5:30 p.m. Unless noted, camps are $150 for DuPage residents and $175 for nonresidents. Questions? Call 630-933-7247 or visit dupageforest.org. The district now offers gift cards that can be used to pay for summer camps as well as other district programs, permits, equipment rental and merchandise. To purchase a gift card, call Visitor Services at 630-933-7248 Monday through Friday 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., email forest@dupageforest.org or stop by district headquarters or an education center.

Bond set at $50,000 for Westmont man charged with fondling pregnant woman

DuPage County State's Attorney Robert B. Berlin recently announced that bond has been set for a Westmont man accused fondling a pregnant woman Jan. 2 as she was walking to work.

Keenan Fowlkes, 18, appeared at a bond hearing in front of Judge Jeffrey MacKay who set bond at $50,000 with 10 percent to apply. Fowlkes has been charged with one count of aggravated battery to a pregnant woman, a Class 3 felony.

It is alleged that at approximately 1:15 p.m. Jan. 2, Fowlkes approached the 28-year-old woman as she was walking in a strip mall near the intersection of 63rd Street and Fairview Avenue in Westmont.

It is alleged that Fowlkes told the woman "I haven't seen you in the area, you're pretty" and that when the woman told Fowlkes she was pregnant he said "I can help you with your kid" and rubbed her stom-

It is further alleged that when the victim attempted to leave, Fowlkes rubbed the woman's thigh and genitals, grabbed her by her wrist and pulled her back towards him. The victim was able to free herself from Fowlkes and the Westmont Police Department was contacted. Police officers located Fowlkes at a nearby restaurant shortly thereafter.

"My office has no tolerance whatsoever for the type of actions Mr. Fowlkes has been charged with," Berlin said. "We will do everything within our power to ensure that no one is subjected to the kind of violent and aggressive behavior alleged in this case. I would like to thank the Westmont Police Department for their quick response in apprehending the defendant."

Fowlkes' next court appearance is scheduled for Feb. 1 for arraignment in front of Judge MacKay.

IHSA to abolish football conferences

New districting format approved; to be rolled out for 2021 season

By Mike Miazga
FOR THE LOMBARDIAN-VILLA PARK
REVIEW

Among the Illinois High School Association's recent member-school approval of 11 amendment proposals in the annual bylaw referendum that ended Dec. 17, is one amendment approval that will signal a monumental change for high-school football starting in 2021.

Starting that year, the IHSA is implementing a district scheduling system that will not only abolish the use of conferences in the sport but will change the playoff-qualification process to where the top 4 teams in each district qualify for the playoffs.

"It is a historic change," said IHSA Executive Director Craig Anderson in a news release. "The narrow gap in the voting indicates that there are pros and cons that impact our diverse football-playing membership in a multitude of ways. We hope that it will effectively address conference realignment and scheduling concerns, while helping create long-term sustainability and growth for high school football in the state."

Beginning in 2021, the IHSA will assign football teams to eight or nine team groupings (i.e. "districts") based on classification and geography. Previously, schools did not officially know their postseason classification until the completion of the regular season, the IHSA explained.

The IHSA will assign each school's regular-season games against their district opponents. Districts will be set for two years, allowing home and away scheduling within the district. Schools will have the autonomy to schedule their non-district opponents for any open weeks, but those non-district games will not count toward playoff qualification. The district assigning process will be similar to how schools are assigned to regionals and sectionals in other IHSA sports and activities, the IHSA

Willowbrook head football coach Nick Hildreth says he's opposed to an IHSA ruling that will abolish the use of conferences in high school football beginning in the 2021 season.

"We understand that everyone wants to know what district and class they will be in, but the reality is that we are two years away from being able to tabulate that information," said Anderson. "Because IHSA districts will operate on a two-year cycle, schools will need the next two years to evaluate their participation. Some may choose to join coops or disband coops. Some may choose to play eight-man football. Chicago Public Schools will need to determine what schools it will make playoff eligible, and we will also have non-boundary schools that will change classes in that timeframe as they gain or lose multiplier waivers."

The IHSA Football Advisory Committee and Board of Directors will work in conjunction with the IHSA staff to begin formulating recommendations on the classification cutoffs for football, the association noted.

"Obviously, the ideal situation would be 64 schools in each class, giving each of the eight classes eight districts with eight teams apiece," said Anderson. "The IHSA Football Advisory Committee, Board of Directors and staff will work together to create policy that addresses situations with more or less than 512 teams."

Head football coaches at Willowbrook Montini and Glenbard East commented on the IHSA ruling.

"My take is that we as schools gave up our freedom to choose what is best for our student-athletes and put it on a state level," said Glenbard East coach John Walters. "While I'm sure the district proposal will provide some sense of stability, the 'Yes' vote to a proposal that we know very little about is very disappointing. I'd prefer to have all the information necessary about this big of a change to the largest participation sport in the state."

"I think there are still a lot of question marks," said Montini coach Mike Bukovsky. "It's going to be a definite change. The quality of those first two regular-season games is going to be very different if they don't mean anything. That's going to be really bizarre. I just don't understand how you play a game that doesn't mean anything. That's ridiculous. I don't think that's a good thing."

"Once you start seeing some actual plans for these districts, then you know some people are going to be unhappy. Right now, everyone's speculating."

Willowbrook coach Nick Hildreth, whose team has gone deep into the postseason the last two years, spoke about the abandonment of the conference format in football. Hildreth is a graduate of the Villa Park high school that is part of a West Suburban Conference operation that has been a model of member consistency for many years.

"I am opposed to the change," said Hildreth. "As a 2000 graduate of Willowbrook I grew up in the West Suburban Conference. I take great pride in the West Suburban Conference and it is the only conference I have ever known. It would be a shame to see some of our great rivalries go away."

A total of 560 IHSA member schools participated in football during the 2018 season. 523 were eligible to qualify for the 2018 IHSA Football Playoffs. The district proposal will not change the IHSA football playoffs materially, as there will continue to be eight postseason classes with 32 qualifiers per class.

Under the current playoff system in effect through the 2020 football season, conference champions in eligible conferences and any eligible team that wins six, seven, eight or nine regular-season games automatically qualifies for the playoff field. A tie-breaker system determines which five-win teams make the field.

Beginning in 2021, the top four teams in each of the eight districts will determine the playoff qualifiers for that class.

"This is the third time (2009, 2014) that a football district proposal has been brought forward to our membership and each time the support has grown," said Anderson. "It is based on a concept that other state high school associations have used successfully, and we are committed to doing our part to make it successful here in Illinois. The beauty of our legislative system is that our member schools will have input in that process and the ability to offer recommendations on tweaks and changes as we progress."

A more definitive timeline on the future release dates of districts and schedules will be developed in conjunction with the IHSA Football Advisory Committee over the course of the 2019-20 school year.

Fourth-quarter surge lifts Warriors to victory over Downers South

Willowbrook improves to 6-1 in the conference

The Willowbrook girls basketball team won a key West Suburban Gold Conference contest last Saturday by beating Downers Grove South 50-45 in Downers Grove.

The Warriors trailed the Mustangs after each of the first three periods of the game, which kicked off the second half of the conference season. Willowbrook earned the victory after outscoring Downers Grove South 16-7 in the final eight minutes.

The Warriors played their first game of the new year last Friday, losing 64-49 in a non-conference contest at Plainfield South.

Saturday's win at Downers Grove South gave the Warriors an overall record of 15-6 and a conference mark of 6-1.

Both teams entered the game with conference records of 5-1. Willowbrook suffered its only conference loss of the first half of the season to Downers Grove South. The Mustangs beat the Warriors 50-41 on Dec. 4 in Villa Park.

Willowbrook trailed the Mustangs 13-7 after one quarter of Saturday's rematch. Downers Grove South raised its lead to 29-19 by halftime. The Warriors trimmed the Mustangs' lead to 38-34 by the end of the third quarter.

Sophomore Stephanie Dasbach led Willowbrook in scoring with 14 points, which included a four-of-four performance from the foul line. Dasbach also grabbed 15 rebounds. Senior Katelyn McCann, who converted a pair of 3-point shots; provided 10 points. Senior Cecilia Lizasuain and sophomore Gracie Tumilty each scored six points for the Warriors, who converted 16 of 23 free-throw attempts.

The Warriors will play conference home games this week against Hinsdale South, Proviso East and Leyden.

Short-handed Warriors find a way to beat the Red Devils

Stubblefield scores 31 points, including two free throws with 2.4 seconds to play

The Willowbrook boys basketball team pulled out a 61-59 victory over Hinsdale Central last Saturday in Villa Park.

The Warriors, who were missing two key players because of injuries, ended a three-game losing streak and improved their overall season record to 8-6.

Junior Everett Stubblefield poured in a season-high 31 points for the Warriors. Stubblefield, who scored his team's last six points, broke a 59-59 tie by sinking a pair of free throws with 2.4 seconds to play. Hinsdale Central inbounded the ball after a timeout and missed a long-range shot from beyond the half-court line.

"Regardless of whether you win or lose, there are always things you can work on," said Willowbrook coach Chris Perkins, whose team won one of four games at Hinsdale Central's holiday tournament from Dec. 26-29. The Warriors opened that tournament with a win but lost their next three games. "Like I told the guys, it's a better feeling when you have to work on those things after a win."

The Warriors played without senior Matas Masys and junior Deandre Holliday, who were both sidelined by injuries.

"That game could have gone either way," said Perkins after the victory over the Red Devils. "I like how we fought and continued to battle, especially considering we were short-handed."

Willowbrook trailed Hinsdale Central 29-28 at halftime. The Red Devils increased their lead to 47-37 with about three minutes to play in the third quarter, but the Warriors trimmed the deficit to 49-45 by the end of the period.

Senior Charlie Flak of the Warriors drained a 3-point shot to cut Hinsdale Central's lead to 52-48 with about seven minutes remaining. The Red Devils held a 57-52 advantage with three minutes to play, but three-point play from senior Scott Tumilty cut the lead to 57-55 with 2:30 left. Stubblefield then hit a pair of free throws to tie the score at 57-57 with 2:21 remaining.

Hinsdale Central scored seconds later to grab a 59-57 with 2:11 to play. The Red Devils missed the front end of a one-and-one with about one minute remaining. Stubblefield drained two free throws with 46.1 seconds to play to tie the game at 59-59.

Stubblefield drew a foul while driving to the basket with 2.4 seconds to play. He went to the line for a one-and-one and made both shots.

Willowbrook's boys basketball team beat Hinsdale Central 61-59 in a non-conference game last Saturday in Villa Park. The Warriors improved their overall season record to 8-6, while Hinsdale Central dropped to 4-10. Junior Everett Stubblefield (No. 3) scored a season-high 31 points for Willowbrook. He broke a 59-59 tie by sinking two free throws with 2.4 seconds to play. Stubblefield made all six of his free-throw attempts during the fourth quarter.

the field, including a three-of-seven effort from 3-point range. He made six of nine free throws.

"We just stayed confident and played as a team," said Stubblefield after the victory. "We were calm and we brought out the 'W'."

In addition to sidelining the team's second-leading scorer, the injury to Masys sidelined the Warriors' point guard. Stubblefield, the team's leading scorer, shifted from his wing position to help with ball-handling duties against the Red Devils.

Senior Levi Bentsen scored eight points, while Flak contributed seven points.

The Warriors' season continues with this week's West Suburban Gold Conference games against Hinsdale South and Downers Grove South. Willowbrook will face Downers Grove South this Friday in Villa Park. The Warriors begin this week with a 2-1 conference record.

"Four games in four days; that was a little rough on us," said Perkins in referring to Hinsdale Central's holiday tournament in late December. "We got banged up. We're trying to get healthy and hopefully squeak out some wins."

Sophomore Kai Evans scored 25 points to lead Montini's boys basketball team to last Friday's 66-62 win over St. Laurence in Lombard. The Broncos picked up their fourth straight win and improved their overall record to 7-9. St. Laurence led Montini 28-15 at the end of the first quarter. The Broncos cut the Vikings' lead to 38-36 by halftime.

Broncos extend winning streak with a victory over St. Laurence

Team posts fourth straight victory and first in league play

Montini's boys basketball team earned its fourth straight victory when it rallied to beat St. Laurence 66-62 in last Friday night's Chicago Catholic League (CCL) game in Lombard.

The Broncos, who trailed St. Laurence 28-15 after the first quarter, cut the Vikings' lead to 38-36 by halftime. The teams were tied at 49-49 at the end of the third quarter.

The Broncos improved to 7-9 overall and 1-3 in the CCL.

Sophomore Kai Evans scored a team-leading 25 points for the Broncos. Evans tallied 16 points in the first half. He provided three field goals, including a 3-point shot, during the fourth quarter.

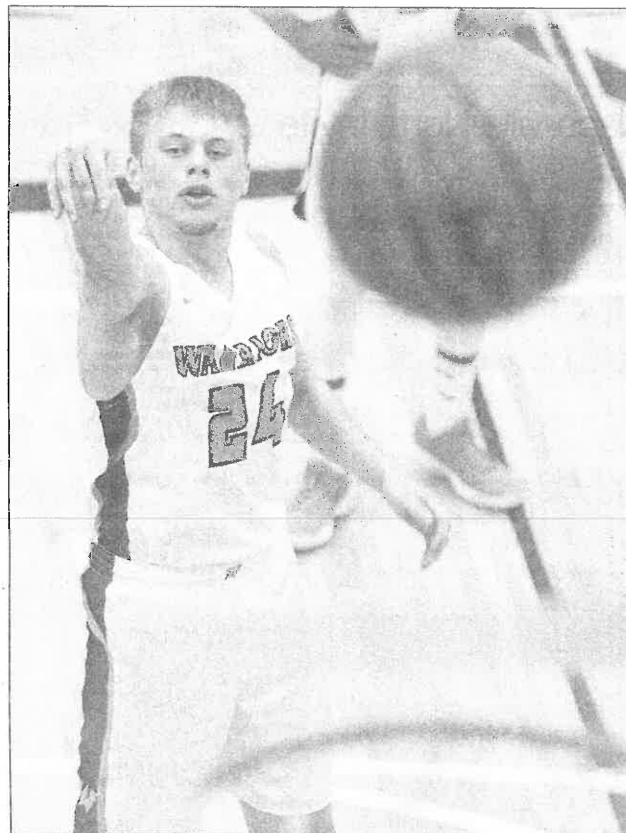

Junior Julian Gatewood added 13 points for Montini. Senior Jermari Harris, playing his first game of the season after helping the Broncos' football team to the IHSA Class 5A state championship game, added 10 points.

"We're starting to come together as a team," said Montini coach Bob Lozano, whose team won the consolation championship at the Westmont Tournament at the end of December. The Broncos opened that event with a loss but proceeded to win their next three games.

"We've still got a couple of guys on the mend from football. Hopefully we'll peak at the right time—at the end of the season. This was a good team win [over St. Laurence]. I'm excited about what's coming up."

The Broncos will play a home game this Friday against DePaul College Prep.

Senior Levi Bentsen (No. 24) scored eight points for the Warriors.

Nick Kosich, balanced York close out victory

By MATT LE CREN

editorial@mysuburbanlife.com

GLEN ELLYN – Nick Kosich sank the most memorable shot for York on Jan. 8 when he beat the third-quarter buzzer with a 3-pointer.

But was that the biggest play of the Dukes' 57-50 West Suburban Conference Silver Division victory over Glenbard West?

Kosich, a senior guard who scored a team-high 16 points, didn't seem to think so.

"I thought it was big, but any shot our team can make to kind of help us boost the momentum back our way is big," Kosich said. "We had a lot of those tonight."

"[Nate] Shockey had a nice little layup and then a 3; that was big, too. And I thought Erik [Cohn] had a huge third quarter. I think he scored three or four times in a row and from there on, we kind of never looked back."

Cohn scored six straight points after Shockey's 3-pointer gave the Dukes (15-1, 4-0) the lead for good. It was all part of an 11-0 run that didn't end until Glenbard West star Evan Taylor scored on a putback with 1:04 left in the third quarter.

York then worked the clock and the ball and Jeff Grace found Kosich wide open for a trey that put the visitors up 40-32 heading into the fourth quarter.

"That was a huge play and [the shot] was open," Glenbard West coach Tim Hoder said. "We defended that poorly. We had three guys on the ball and nobody on Kosich. That's a mistake and we can't make mistakes like that and win."

Probably not, but the Dukes are so balanced and talented that they can force teams into mistakes. Kosich, Shockey, Cohn and center Sam Walsh all are capable of scoring 20 points on any given night and it's impossible to predict which one of them – if any – will.

The Hilltoppers (11-5, 1-3), who have lost twice to the Dukes, used a zone to key on Walsh, who has been hot lately, but it didn't work. Shockey tallied 15 points, Cohn had 14 points to go with four rebounds and four steals, and Walsh chipped in nine points, five rebounds, two assists and two steals.

"That's our strength," York coach Vince Doran said. "We're good as individuals, but we can be great when we play together. We're so hard to guard because you've got four guys out there that are averaging 12 to 13 a game that you've got deal with."

The Hilltoppers couldn't deal with it for the full 32 minutes, although they made it an entertaining and tight game until the end.

York scored the first seven points of the game as John Milling made a 3-pointer and Cohn scored twice off steals. Glenbard West answered with an 11-0 run as five players scored in the first quarter, which ended with West up 16-15.

The Hilltoppers led 30-26 after a Corey Williams trey from the right corner two minutes into the third, but they went nearly five minutes without scoring again as the Dukes took control.

"It's a game of runs," Cohn said. "That's just a capable team and we jumped on them early, which we like to do, and they just came battling right back. They've got guys that can play and they got going a little bit and made a nice run. We were finally able to take control in the third. Coach said slow down, run the offense, let the game come to you, and I think we did that."

Walsh tallied six of his points in the fourth quarter as the Dukes extended their lead to 50-35 before West made it interesting.

Southern Illinois recruit Taylor, who had 21 points, nine rebounds and six assists, made three free throws with 15.9 seconds left to cut the deficit to 56-50, but he didn't have enough help offensively. Freshman Braden Huff tallied eight points and Caden Phillips added seven points.

"You know you're going to have to play well to beat them, but we have stretches where we don't play well," Hoder said. "It's not just missing shots. It's getting loose balls or getting a rebound. There's some of those plays that you have to have in certain situations and I don't think we made them tonight."

Taylor had 21 points and 10 rebounds for Glenbard West in a 61-46 loss to Oak Park-River Forest on Jan. 4.

Willowbrook

Everett Stubblefield III had 20 points, six rebounds, eight assists and six steals to lead the Warriors past Hinsdale South 65-56 on Jan. 8. Levi Bentsen added 15 points and Charlie Flak 12.

Timothy Christian

Matt Owens scored 21 points, and the Trojans won their first game in Arizona, beating Gilbert Christian 63-56. Josh Harris scored 20 points, all in the second half, and Owens added 13 to lead the Trojans (10-7) past Rancho Solano 58-53 in their last game in Arizona.

GIRLS BASKETBALL Willowbrook

Kaitlyn McCann scored 15 points and Annemarie Knudtson added nine for the Warriors in a 47-44 loss to Hinsdale South on Jan. 8. Stephanie Dasbach had 14 points and 15 rebounds and McCann 10 points in a 50-45 win over Downers Grove South on Jan. 5.

York

Sydney Molis scored 12 points and Lauren Khome 11 for the Dukes in a 44-34 loss to Glenbard West on Jan. 8.

Willowbrook can't keep up with Proviso E.

BY PATRICK Z. MCGAVIN

Daily Herald Correspondent

Boys basketball

The four state championship banners that hang above the floor at Proviso East underscore its status as a highly distinctive basketball program.

Nobody knows that better than Willowbrook guard Everett Stubblefield III.

His parents are both graduates of the school. His father, also named Everett Stubblefield, was a star player there two decades ago. The younger Stubblefield had all the incentive to play well.

Stubblefield scored 13 points, but the Warriors could not contain the Pirates in the open floor or handle their withering full-court pressure, falling 85-58 Tuesday night in Maywood.

"We just struggled against their press," Stubblefield said.

"That was the main thing we struggled with. We could not really get the ball past half court. We played hard as a team, but we could not really pull out the victory."

Proviso East plays an aggressive, full-court style that transcends time and personnel. Coach Donnie Boyce was a player on the Pirates' 1991 Class AA title team with Michael Finley and Sherrell Ford.

"This is one of the quickest teams I've ever had," Boyce said. "We are not very tall, but we are athletic and really get after it defensively."

The Warriors appeared to catch a break in the schedule by playing a Pirates team that was playing their fourth game in five days. It hardly mattered. Proviso East (13-5, 5-1) forced 26 turnovers in running out to a 51-24 halftime lead.

Proviso East was also coming off its first West Suburban Gold loss against Hinsdale South last Friday. Junior guard Michael Osborne scored 9 of his game-high 19 points in the first quarter.

Proviso East bolted out to a 25-9 lead after the first quarter. Willowbrook coach Chris Perkins called two timeouts. He could not slow down the frenetic and explosive Proviso East attack.

"That is the style they play," Perkins said. "Regardless of who they are playing, that is the up-tempo style they are trying to execute. It's a similar style to what we play, but obviously they were much better at it tonight. That is probably the most turnovers we have had in any game this year."

Playing in his first game since the Hinsdale Central Christmas Classic, guard Matas Masys tried to inject some life into the Warriors' attack by entering the game early in the second quarter.

Willowbrook (9-8, 3-3) never led. Charlie Flak opened the second quarter by drilling a 3-pointer that pulled the Warriors within 25-12. Proviso East responded with a 15-4 run. Ten Proviso East players scored.

Stubblefield was the lone Willowbrook player to reach double figures. Reserves Deandre Holliday, Joey Byrne and Brenton Jones scored 7 points apiece for the Warriors.

"We just have to work harder in practice and bounce back and play the way we are capable of and beat the next team we play to get a win," Stubblefield said.

Willowbrook travels to Sterling to play in a two-day Martin Luther King tournament. The Warriors will face highly regarded Maine South and Oswego East on Monday.

3-pointers and scored 24 points to lead four Mustangs in double figures. "The game was intense going up and down, so if we bring it from the start we can compete with anybody."

That was one problem for Metea (9-9). Trapping the Mustangs on the wings, Waukegan (15-4) forced 5 early turnovers and literally raced out to a 15-4 lead.

Metea coach Matt Walpole countered with a 1-2-2 three-quarters-court press and directed the ball away from the sidelines, and the Mustangs moved within 23-19 after one quarter.

"We had multiple chances to go away," Walpole said. "We were kind of on the ropes, three separate times. And I love the fight in our kids. I was really proud of them scratching and clawing. But obviously you allow a team to score 83 points it's going to be difficult to be successful, plain and simple."

Waukegan coach Ron Ashlaw later said he thought the Bulldogs were 14-0 when Helwig swished a 3-top of the key to connect 83-80 with 11.6 seconds left.

"We needed a steal back in this game, so that, went out there, hit a big shot, down 3. Timeout," said senior guard Earnie Morgan added.

White missed the 1-and-1 free-throw nity with 9.8 seconds to his credit sprinted court to poke the ball from Metea. It rattled until the horn sounded. Ashlaw wanted this competition.

Addison Trail posts another win

By JOHN LEUSCH

Girls basketball

Addison Trail posted its second nonconference road win in three days on Wednesday night at Hoffman Estates.

This one wasn't nearly as suspenseful as the first.

On Monday it was a 3-pointer with 12 seconds left that gave the Blazers a 1-point win at IC Catholic Prep.

On Wednesday Addison Trail was in cruise control at the end, pulling away to a 52-26 triumph.

"It's really exciting for us," said Blazers senior Karime Martinez, who scored 9 points, all in the second half when the Blazers (9-11) outscored the Hawks 27-11.

"It was just moving the ball around a lot. By doing that we got a lot of open looks from different shooters and that helped us a lot."

Martinez, who plans to study nursing, helps her team in many ways. "She does a lot of the little things," said Blazers coach Rob Schader.

"Sometimes she struggles to score, but she works real hard on the defensive end and rebounds for us. She is really our floor captain defensively, getting kids in the right spots at the right times."

who led the hosts (7-15) with 13 points, was in the right spots to start the second half.

With her team trailing 25-15, Sturgis fired home a 3-pointer and scored on a put-back to make it 25-20.

"They cut it to 5 points there and then we pressured them," Schader said. "They kind of threw the ball away and we got some easy buckets. I'm proud of our effort and the way the girls played. And we got a bunch of 3-pointers."

Two of those were back-to-back from freshman Quiana Birmingham, who scored 11 points, to extend the lead to 31-20. Birmingham also had the 3-pointer to win the game in Elmhurst on Monday.

AT pulls away from Hoffman

BY JOHN LEUSCH

Addison Trail's girls basketball team posted its second nonconference road win in three days on Wednesday night at Hoffman Estates.

This one wasn't nearly as suspenseful as the first.

On Monday, it was a 3-pointer with 12 seconds left that gave the Blazers a 1-point win at IC Cathold Prep.

On Wednesday, Addison Trail was in cruise control at the end, pulling away to a 52-26 triumph.

"It's really exciting for us," said Blazers senior Karime Martinez, who scored 9 points, all in the second half when the Blazers (9-11) outscored the Hawks 27-11.

"It was just moving the ball around a lot. By doing that we got a lot of open looks from different shooters and that helped us a lot."

Martinez, who plans to study nursing, helps her team in many ways.

"She does a lot of the little things," said Blazers coach Rob Schader, a former basketball and football standout at Conant (Class of 1995) who played plenty of big games at Hoffman Estates.

"Sometimes she struggles to score but she works real hard on the defensive end and rebounds for us. She is really our floor captain defensively, getting kids in the right spots at the right times."

Sophomore Ana Sturgis, who led the hosts (7-15) with 13 points, was in the right spots to start the second half.

With her team trailing 25-15, Sturgis fired home a 3-pointer and scored on a put-back to make it 25-20.

"They cut it to 5 points there and then we pressured them," Schader said. "They kind of threw the ball away and we got some easy buckets. I'm proud of our effort and the way the girls played. And we got a bunch of 3-pointers."

Two of those were back-to-back from freshman Quiana Birmingham (11 points, three 3-pointers) to extend the lead to 31-20.

Birmingham also had the 3-pointer to win the game in Elmhurst on Monday.

Sophomore Mia Johnson led Addison Trail on Wednesday with 14 points, including one of its six 3-pointers while junior Demi Koulogeorgas had 10 points and two 3-pointers.

"We got No. 40 (Berry Chukwuyem), who's tough inside, in foul trouble early and No. 34 (Raven Wilson, the Hawks' top scorer) didn't play. So without those two, that helped a lot," Schader said.

Wilson, who is averaging close to 15 points, hopes to return for Friday's game against Conant.

"She has been a big part of our team the last couple of years," said Hawks coach Mike Koester. "Not having her hurt tonight but we are making sure she is healthy going forward. Hopefully she is ready for Conant. She's had a little soreness in the knee and we're being a little careful. She had a ACL a couple of years ago."

Ritika Prasad and Sturgis hit 3-pointers for Hoffman.

Hoffman Estates' Kate Mongold, left, drives to the basket against Addison Trail's Karime Martinez during Wednesday's game in Hoffman Estates.

JOE LEWNAW/Jleward@daillyherald.com

"We came out with couple of possessions early where we got good looks," Koester said. "Then we made a few mistakes and they went on a run and we were playing behind the rest of the way. We just didn't get it done."

Schader enjoyed his trip to Hoffman.

"Some good and some bad memories here," Schader said about his high school playing days. "It's always special to come back to a place where you played. I know this place well."

Stevenson 57, Wheeling 30: Stevenson posted a non-conference win over Wheeling on Wednesday night. Senior Nosa Igheon (12 points) and junior Chloe Drozd (10 points, three 3-pointers) led the Wildcats (9-12).

Boys basketball

Wheeling 82, Round Lake 61: Michael Best scored 22 points to lead Wheeling to a nonconference win at Round Lake. Also contributing for the Wildcats (6-11) were Christian McLaughlin (12 points), Brandon Zettek (11), Joe Jordan (10), Javen Reid (8), Caleb Zalewski (7), Jeremy Kim (6) and Solomon Hudson (6).
