Structure of District 88 plan

The plans below are based on the DuPage County COVID-19 IDPH School Metrics Guidance Document (shown at right – click on the image to view a high-resolution version)

In the table below, different learning models have been incorporated under the three corresponding IDPH-defined community transmission levels, as outlined in IDPH Adaptive Pause guidance and County Level COVID-19 Risk Metrics.

1. Additionally, DuPage County Health Department (DCHD) will be working closely with schools to monitor absenteeism, disease activity, and other indicators and trends to further inform learning model considerations.
2. For current DuPage County-level metrics on COVID-19 community transmission and the current level of Community Transmission see the DCHD COVID-19 dashboard at: www.dupagehealth.org/covid19data. This dashboard will be updated each Friday.
3. DuPage County's Level of COVID-19 Community Transmission is determined by the highest category in which a single metric is met or exceeded. For example, if one metric is met or exceeded in the "Substantial Community Transmission" category, DuPage County will be at that level.
4. When considering a shift to more in-person learning, all metrics should be under the identified thresholds for a given level for at least 2 consecutive weeks. For example, all metrics in the "Minimal Community Transmission" category should be below the identified thresholds for at least 2 consecutive weeks before DuPage County will be listed in the "Minimal Community Transmission" level.

Return to full in-person learning as before COVID-19 will be based on broad access and uptake of a safe, effective vaccine to prevent additional spread of COVID-19 and/or when there are no new cases over a sustained period. This corresponds to Phase 5 of Restore Illinois Plan.

DuPage County Health Department's "Return to School" Framework is informed by guidance and recommendations from public health and healthcare organizations across the country including Arizona Department of Health Services, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Center for Infectious Disease Research & Policy, Harris County Public Health, Harvard Global Health Institute, Illinois Department of Public Health, University of Nebraska Medical Center, and the White House Coronavirus Taskforce.

- STAGE 1 REMOTE - (Approved to begin the year, with status to be reviewed at the October 5th BOE meeting). The success of remote instruction will be the most critical component of our instructional planning as all of our instructional stages during this pandemic will contain a robust remote instructional program. During this remote period, all instruction and resource support is remote with the following exception: in-person, intermittent instruction/interventions, as determined necessary by the IEP team, may be held for special student populations (LINK 1, DLP, TRANSITION) that are unable to access remote learning independently. These opportunities may be scheduled in advance in consultation with the department head in the identified programs based on student need and teacher input. Additionally, students needing support accessing remote learning (prioritizing SPED, ELL, and 504) may access learning centers on campus while connecting with his/her remote instruction.
- Learning Centers - Students with significant barriers to remote learning be approved to access learning centers on campus. Identification, registration, and transportation for approved students will be coordinator by the building administration. Students will be assigned to assigned locations and must follow all student expectations for in-person learning. Students will be given headphones to prevent distractions. Please contact the building principals for more information.

Procedures for Accessing the Learning Centers:

- In-person and remote after school tutoring programs may be open on a limited basis for students needing extra support. These would be tutoring positions that could be staffed with teacher assistants with the proper credentials.

Additionally, teachers have the option to invite individual students or small groups of students for in-person instruction, intervention, social emotional supports, and/or related services on a very limited basis with department head and administrative approval (i.e., Department Heads may propose some in person learning opportunities to the administration for approval). Priority should be given to those experiences that cannot be replicated online and to students who are not successful in remote learning.
